SUMMER SNOW: Robert (Brad) Rhoades, 7, plays with the cottony substance from cottonwood or poplar trees that ring his home at 348 Prospect, St. Joseph. The ground and shrubbery in the area around the Rhoades home is nearly white from the seeds. Brad's father, Charles E. Rhoades said a good rain would wash away the cottony substance. Hays Improves After Sleeping Pill Overdose

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
BARNESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Wayne Hays today fought back from a coma induced by an overdose of sleeping pills and began mumbling several words.
His doctor said the overdose taken by Hays, weakened by the congressional payroll-sex scandal which broke May 23, was accidental.
Dr. Richard Phillips said early today that Hays was semiconscious now, considerably better, and "He's going to come out of it now."
After examining Hays at 6 a.m., Phillips said he was "considerably more optimistic and quite reassured."
Phillips said that he thought Hays heard the words "press" and "distress." Hays' press secretary said earlier that Hays had been distressed because the press had been "hounding" the congressman from Washington to Ohio.

Phillips said, however, that Hays still remained in guarded condition and in a semiconscious state. He said he expected the congressman, described as being still pale, to be in the hospital a week to two weeks. He said that Hays would not be eating for several days, but would be fed intravenously.

He spoke his first words to nurse Martha Rafaczak sometime after midnight today.

"Do you know where you are?" she asked.

He nodded yes.

"Where?" she asked.

"Barnesville," he replied, slowly and with difficulty.

The nurse said Hays mumbled other things she could not understand.

Hays' wife, Pat, who kept a night-long vigil at his side in the intensive care unit, also sought to awaken him from his coma.

"Wake up," she pleaded.

"You slept long enough."

"He's better," Phillips had said Thursday night. "Every hour his level of coma is slowly and steadily decreasing. He's going to make it."

Elizabeth Ray, the 33-year-old blonde who accused Hays of putting her in the staff of his House Administration Committee to be his mistress, arrived at London airport today and appeared close to tears when told Hays had been hospitalized.

"It's dreadful. I'm very shocked," she said. "Before I left, I had no idea anything like this had happened."

Miss Ray, dressed in blue jeans, blue blouse and a patterned velvet jacket, said she was in London to promote a book she has written about the sexual affairs of fictitious characters in Washington.

Phillips told reporters at a briefing early today that Hays' prognosis is "guarded," but that "if he does come out of the coma, we have no reason to believe that he will suffer any permanent brain damage and he should be certainly as functional as before."

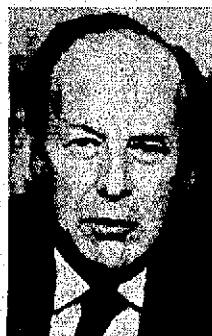

Phillips said he had prescribed Dalmane, a sleeping pill, about 2 1/2 weeks ago to help relieve the stress that the 65-year-old Democratic congressman had been under because of his admitted affair with Miss Ray.

Hays is under investigation by a federal grand jury, the Justice Department and the House Ethics Committee.

After winning renomination in Ohio's primary election Tuesday, Hays drove to Washington on Wednesday morning.

Three Oaks Man Will 'Enjoy It' A $200,000 Winner!

ROBERT CARPENTER
$200,000 winner

THREE OAKS — Robert Carpenter of Three Oaks is relatively calm about the $200,000 top prize he won yesterday in the state lottery Super Drawing. "It's money," he said matter-of-factly. "We'll enjoy it," he added in a telephone interview.

Carpenter said his immediate plans for the money include buying a motorcycle, paying off the house mortgage and building a swimming pool.

He said that at 34 he is too young to retire from Duchman Steel company where he has worked for 15 years.

He added that his wife, Carol, is considerably more excited over the money and that the couple's daughters, Michele, 6, and Margie, 5, are beginning to realize they will be getting new bikes. Carpenter is the seventh southwestern Michigan resident to win the top $200,000 Super Drawing, lottery prize. The others were the late Fred Marshall, Ben Hendershott and Julia Orsborn, all of Niles; Arthur Hettig and Terrence King, both of St. Joseph; and George Compton of South Haven.

Yesterday's drawing was held in Southfield.

Carpenter said that after the $10,000 envelope was opened, "I just knew, there was no doubt in my mind, I was going to win the big one."

Afterwards, he and his wife, a brother and his friend all went out to supper but returned to Three Oaks by 2 a.m.

"I slept like a log when I got to bed," he added.

Carpenter said he buys two lottery tickets each week and bought his winner at Schwark's tavern in Three Oaks.

Other winners included: David Platt, 18, Belleville,

Wrong-Way Driver Halted By Truck

NEW BUFFALO — State police at New Buffalo have credited a tow-truck driver with stopping a car that had driven the wrong way for 23 miles on I-94 early this morning.

Troopers said James Ponegalek, of Union Pier, spotted a westbound car in the eastbound lane of I-94 about 4:25 a.m. today and gave chase in his wrecker.

The car was halted at Wilson road and I-94, about one mile north of the state line.

When police arrived, they arrested a man identified as Buddy Heard, 39, of Battle Creek. He was lodged in the Berrien county jail on a charge of drunk and disorderly. Officers said a warrant is to be sought today charging Heard with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The car had first been reported to police at 3:55 a.m. by security guards at the Cook Nuclear plant who saw it heading west in the eastbound lane.

Troopers said Heard told them he had entered the interstate at Stevensville and was attempting to drive to Bridgman.

Ponegalek is the owner of Jim's Sunoco, on exit six of I-94.

Winning Numbers

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (AP) — The winning numbers in Thursday's regular weekly Bureau of the State Lottery Super Drawing are: Three-one-nine (319) and eight-nine-five (895).

The Millionaire qualifying number is: six-two-two-two-four-nine (622249).

Cook Plant Unit Gets Full Power

BRIDGMAN — Indiana & Michigan Electric company announced today that the initial generating unit at its Donald C. Cook nuclear plant at Bridgman has been authorized to operate at 100 percent capacity.

The 1,100,000-kilowatt unit had been operating at 90 percent of power since April prior to authorization for the step-up to 100 percent by the Nuclear Regulatory commission.

Robert W. Jurgensen, Cook plant manager, said the new NRC license for 100 percent capacity will be effective until the initial unit is shut down for reheating of nuclear fuel in the reactor core next December.

Unit 1 at the plant was declared in commercial operation on August 23, 1975, and initially operated at 835,000 kilowatts or 81 percent of capacity under its NRC license.

This was increased to 945,000 kilowatts last April.

Meanwhile, work is continuing on the construction of the second 1,100,000-kilowatt unit at the nuclear facility. Unit 2 is scheduled for commercial operation early in 1978.

When fully completed with the operation of the second unit in 1978, total cost of the facility is expected to be approximately $500 million.

Berrien Disbanding Metro Crime Unit

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

The Berrien county Metro Crime Unit will cease operations June 30 because the county will not renew a third-year grant which would obligate the county to total funding of the unit in the fourth year.

Meeting as a committee of the whole yesterday, county commissioners agreed not to accept a third-year grant with no dissenting votes. The meeting was not a full county board meeting, but only Commissioner Edward Mattis of St. Joseph was not present.

The third year program, which would have started in July, would have been funded with half the money coming from a state and federal grant and the other half from the county and participating municipalities.

But the grant carries a stipulation that if the third-year grant is accepted, the county must automatically pay the entire cost of the program in its fourth year.

Ward Hamlin New Prosecutor For Van Buren

PAW PAW — The appointment of Ward (Steve) Hamlin, Jr. of South Haven as Van Buren county prosecuting attorney was announced today by Judge Meyer Warshawsky.

WARD (STEVE) HAMLIN
Appointed prosecutor

Hamlin, 31, an assistant in the prosecutor's office since January, 1975, was scheduled to be sworn in by Judge Warshawsky at 11:30 a.m. today in Van Buren circuit court.

Hamlin has been in charge of the prosecuting attorney's branch office in South Haven and responsible for all prosecution of juveniles.

He will replace Frank D. Willis, who left the prosecuting attorney's post June 7 to accept Gov. Milliken's appointment as county probate judge. Willis replaced Judge Warshawsky, who was appointed in January to the circuit bench by the governor.

The appointment was for the remainder of the current term, which ends Dec. 31.

Hamlin, George S. Dunn of Lawton, also an assistant Van Buren prosecutor; and James W. Narregon of Decatur, an assistant prosecutor in Kalamazoo county are all seeking election to the new four-year term of prosecutor at stake in the county elections this year. They have all filed for the Republican nomination to the office and will face each other in the Republican Aug. 3 primary.

"All those who sought the position were well qualified and highly capable attorneys," Judge Warshawsky said. "All demonstrated a clear and convincing desire to serve the citizens of Van Buren county. Only one could be selected."

Hamlin had received the endorsement of the Van Buren county Republican party executive committee for the prosecutor's post during a meeting Wednesday night.

A Vietnam veteran, he had formerly practiced law in St. Joseph during 1973 and 1974. Hamlin, and his wife, Karen, reside at 78 Van Buren, South Haven, and have three children.

Countywide Tax Valuation

Property taxes levied on real estate are arrived at by a somewhat circuitous course, that understandably can cause citizens to shake their head in confusion.

It also gives rise to a frequent belief in the various municipal units that the property owner in the next unit isn't paying his fair share of tax. St. Joseph city commissioners in calling this week for a countywide appraisal showed the same skepticism about their neighbors getting off easier under the system of arriving at tax valuations.

In brief, the system works like this. The assessor in each city and township sets an "assessed value" for each parcel of property. The assessor in each of Berrien county's 30 different assessing units has his own idea of value levels. Then to put these various assessment levels on a par across the county, the county equalization department and board of commissioners establishes a multiplier, or equalization factor, for each unit that will theoretically convert the varying assessment levels into a uniform level for all units.

If the levy for school, county and city (or township) taxes, for example, is 25 mills and the assessed value set by the city or township assessor says the property valuation is $10,000, the owner thinks the tax should be $250.

Not so necessarily. Depending upon the property's location, the tax might be that amount or it can be more.

This year, for example, if the Berrien county equalization report is not disturbed seriously by the State Tax Commission, only in five of the 22 townships, Bainbridge, Benton, Lake, Watervliet and Wecaw, and only in two of the eight cities, Coloma and Watervliet, would a 25-mill tax on a $10,000 assessment produce a $250 tax bill. Only in those units did the assessors peg values at the 50 per cent of market value they are supposed to hit.

In all the others the bill would be higher. There the assessors set values something below a 50% level.

In Buchanan township the bill would be slightly over 62 per cent higher and in Buchanan city it would run nearly 47 per cent more. In dollars, our 25 mill - $10,000 local assessment - $250 bill hypothetically becomes $405 in the township and $367.50 in the city.

This equalization process develops some astonishing contrasts in assessing levels.

The reader will note that Watervliet

City and township come out even.

Two miles west a vastly different result obtains.

A $250 tax bill in Coloma city becomes a $405 liability in Coloma township, because of the difference in assessing levels.

Does this arcane arithmetic mean that a house located in Coloma Township is worth more than one of the same size, age and type of construction in Coloma City, whereas they would be in parity in neighboring Watervliet City and Township?

Conceivably there is this element of diversity in value.

More realistically, though, what the county equalizer formula is saying is that the total of all real estate in Coloma Township has been underrated by the local assessor whereas the Coloma City assessor has correctly valued all of the real estate in his bailiwick.

Therefore, under state law, every property owner in Coloma Township will be given a 48 per cent hike in his valuation by the equalization factor to put him on a par with his Coloma City neighbor.

As applied to the Buchanan area, the equalizer formula says the City and Township assessors are nearly equal in arriving at undervaluation for tax purposes.

The other day the city fathers in St. Joseph called for a countywide appraisal, not as it is patched together by local assessors and the county equalizing board but by outside professional appraisers. The city hall took this action upon learning that the county office plans to raise the total assessment within St. Joseph by slightly over 5 per cent.

The county did engage an outside service for that purpose in the early 1960s, but it was not as thorough as what the St. Joseph commission has in mind.

Bill Gillespie, a commission member, told reporters what his colleagues believe, namely, that St. Joseph's assessments are up to snuff, but they suspect what those valuations may be elsewhere.

If a complete survey is taken, there is no doubt the property tax load would shift around from one political unit to another. Further, it would shift from owner to owner within those units because the equalizing formula applies only to totals within a city or township. It does not take into consideration differences within those units.

The survey's cost would be considerable.

Although no one has sought out bids from the professionals, a half million dollars almost has to be assumed for the project.

Though the commission's position is sound, some progress toward uniformity in assessments between the local units is readily apparent.

In addition to the five townships and two cities already in agreement with the county formula, six other townships, Baroda, Hagar, New Buffalo, Niles, Oronoko and St. Joseph, are no more than slightly beyond 6 per cent under the formula and some are only three points off, and the same applies to Benton Harbor city.

Up until a few years ago, scarcely any local unit could display a 1 to 1 agreement with the county or state authorities, and many of them had their local assessments doubled or tripled by the reviewing procedure.

The value in a countywide appraisal, if done properly, would be in realizing individual fairness, making certain that one owner is not favored at the expense of another.

One word of caution. Don't hold us to that $250 tax bill or the 25-mill rate.

Would that it were possible to run the Berrien county government, the city or township governments and the local school districts for a total of 25 mills, not to mention special millages for a variety of purposes.

Not even the Book of Revelations promises that much for those mending their sinful ways.

State AFL-CIO Chief Asks Support For Tax Reform

Editor.

As with motherhood, everyone is for tax reform. Unfortunately, with each passing year, tax reform at the federal level has resulted in individual Americans carrying more of the tax burden while less is shouldered by the large corporations and the wealthy.

Once again the U.S. Senate is wrestling with a tax "reform" bill that offered modest reform when it was adopted by the House of Representatives last December. After several weeks of Senate Committee changes, the bill has been further weakened.

There is still a chance of reform. Several senators have announced that they intend to spend your money, you have the right to insist that each of us pay our fair share, and not someone else's share as well.

The major amendments that deserve support — and maybe a word of encouragement to Senators Hart and Griffin are:

1: An amendment to repeal the deferral of taxes on the profits of U.S. multinational companies abroad. Under present law, these firms can keep their foreign profits untaxed as long as the money remains abroad. Thus the companies use these funds to expand their operations abroad instead of here. This "subsidy" in the law has cost millions of dollars in U.S. taxes and hundreds of thousands of jobs. Only full repeal can end this loophole.

2: An amendment to reform the foreign tax credit now used by U.S. multinational corporations. This "subsidy" also costs taxes and jobs. U.S. companies abroad can now credit on a dollar for dollar basis taxes paid abroad against their profits. In the U.S., the company can only deduct taxes paid to the state, a far less favorable tax break. Senator Hartke will also seek to curb this abuse through floor amendment.

3: An amendment to restore the House-passed limitation on tax shelters. The Senate committee weakened this provision. The House-passed bill would limit the opportunities for doctors, dentists, executives and other high income persons from using "paper" losses in real estate, leasing, movies and sport franchises to avoid taxes on their regular income.

4: An amendment to restore the House-passed changes in the minimum tax. This provision is a catch-all that is designed to extract a minimum amount of

Where to locate the planned new county juvenile detention home promised to be a subject that would produce pointed discussion at today's June meeting of the Berrien county board of supervisors. Location of the juvenile home has been a controversial issue since Supervisor Frank Poorman of Buchanan, chairman of the health and welfare committee, recommended a site near the county infirmary at Berrien Center. Probate Judge Malcolm Hatfield favors a site in or near the county seat of St. Joseph. A decision by the board today appeared a possibility.

Old South Lives In Carter Land

PLAINS, GA. — If Atlanta is a look at the future of the South, Jimmy Carter, Country is in some disreputable ways a glimpse of the past. Andersonville is here. So are stains on the earth where the slave auctions stood. If one listens there are echoes from guns and whips and weeping children. This is Southwest Georgia, perhaps the birthplace of the next president of the Union.

It can be said the region has only selectively kept pace with the progress of America. It has accommodated color TV and fast food service, but there has been less in the way of adaption of the soul. Folks who 'praise' be in Carter's church still don't like niggermen looking at their daughters. One example is illustrative.

Two years ago a man named Roy Patterson was engaged in the pursuit of upward mobility in Albany, Ga., a town to the south of Plains. He was married, had a child, and was a Marine Corps sergeant with a fine record of service. He was, however, black, and as it has for so many of his people in this area his color was to become his undoing.

One day the sergeant accompanied his mother and brother on an innocent trip to Curdlee, Ga., a community to the west of Plains. There, at a filling station, a state trooper began questioning Patterson's brother about a defective taillight on his automobile. The sergeant joined the conversation to see if there was anything he could do, and was reportedly told by the cop to "shut your mouth."

The cop, it should be mentioned, was not in good humor. But then, according to the views of some who knew him, he seldom was when confronting the colored. He was a heavy drinker and allegedly tended toward excessive zeal in his police responsibilities.

Whatever his character, the trooper eventually felt that a faulty taillight was an arrestable offense in the case of Roy Patterson's brother. He took him to the jail for what he said would be an Intoximeter test. Sgt. Patterson followed, and at the lockup was told again to keep his mouth shut. Feeling between the sergeant and the trooper became heated, the Marine finally saying he was going to get a lawyer for his brother — and a scuffle began soon after that.

What happened then, according to Patterson's account, was singularly bizarre. The sergeant said the trooper tried to handcuff him and at the same time pulled out his .387, magnum pistol. Patterson says he reacted instinctively for fear of getting shot, and wrestled the officer for the weapon. During the altercation the sergeant's wife and baby were knocked in the floor. Then another policeman joined the fracas. In the end both officers were shot dead, Patterson insisting it was accidental and beyond his control.

A jury did not believe the sergeant. Marine Corps evidence was introduced that indicated Patterson had "an apparent tendency toward violence." Defense lawyers tried to explain the matter was precipitated by the aggressive trooper, that all the sergeant was trying to do originally was take a trip with his family, and all he tried to do in the end was protect them. The finding: guilty. The sentence: life.

Today Roy Patterson rots away in a jailhouse in Jimmy Carter Country, a reminder that the Old South lives even as the New South expands. Wide smiles and talk of Jesus doesn't quite explain the phenomena. It's not J. Carter's fault, certainly. He can't be blamed for the ills of some of his neighbors. And yet, listening to the terrible echoes here, one wonders if any native is altogether innocent.

Stop Carter Drive Divided

WASHINGTON — When I was a child, I often watched my grandmother capture one of the chickens wandering in the yard behind her farmhouse in South Dakota and chop off its head with an ax to prepare it for dinner.

The headless body of the poor creature always continued to run around wildly for a while afterward, its motor reflexes unable to accept the catastrophe.

The anybody-but-Carter forces remind me of that chicken.

The temptation to join the winner's bandwagon will be strong, and it seems almost inevitable that Carter will reach the magic number of 1,505 before the convention balloting.

That old political bromide that you can't stop somebody with nobody is working in Carter's favor. The anti-Carter forces have disastrously divided their support among three candidates, none of whom shows any interest in stepping aside in favor of another. And holding out for Hubert Humphrey is a futile exercise in the face of that massive Carter delegate count.

Already there are signs that the anti-Carter coalition is falling apart. George McGovern, who doesn't care for Carter, suddenly couldn't tolerate two staff members whom he has known for months were working against Carter. New York Mayor Abe Beame, who had promised to consult with Sen. Henry Jackson (the winner of the New York primary) before he made any move, calls Jackson at 11 p.m. (waking him up) to announce that he intended to endorse Carter the next morning. Jackson mumbled sleepily that Beame wasn't consulting, he was telling, and hung up on him angrily.

Defections from Humphrey as either secret- or second-choice are beginning. Humphrey infuriated a clump of Jackson

New York delegates who were potential Humphrey backers (mostly from Nassau County) by sponsoring a fund-raiser held June 8 for Rep. Bella Abzug's Senate candidacy.

The affair, featuring a movie made by Abzug's husband of a visit to China by the congresswoman and several others, was also sponsored by several of her House colleagues. Humphrey, however, was the only Senator on the list. Without the protective coloring of any other Senators, his name sticks out like a leech.

The Jackson delegates, some committed to their man through only the first ballot and others, until they are released, are now screaming they wouldn't go for Humphrey if he were the last man in the country. They are hawks on U.S.-Soviet relations and to them Abzug is the enemy. She consistently votes against higher military spending and was a dove on Vietnam. Furthermore, they prefer former-United Nations Ambassador Daniel Moynihan now over Abzug for the Senate.

A spokesman in Humphrey's office insisted that his sponsorship of the function did not mean an endorsement and tried to downplay the whole episode by noting that it represented nothing more than a routine and "quickly handled" phone request. But the damage has been done.

SJ Grads Link Their Milestone With Bicentennial

'The Day Finally Arrives' For 360 Seniors

By DICK DERRICK
Staff Writer

Student speakers linked the nation's Bicentennial milestone with their own graduation at the 194th commencement of St. Joseph high school last night in Dickinson stadium.

Before stands packed with parents, relatives and friends, Kristin Johnson and Cheryl Gano bid farewell to their high school careers. The senior class of 1976 has 360 graduates. The two student speakers were selected by their classmates.

Miss Johnson, who opened with: "The day has finally come, thank goodness!" said: "We've changed, we all changed...as I look back on my days as a sophomore, I see an entirely different person. Never could I have realized the changes that would take place in myself and in others."

She told of making friends, solving problems and of the class growing up together. She added: "This is the last time we'll be all together. Many of us will never see each other again."

"But as we all travel down our separate paths of life, there is something we all have in common—something we can't erase. We have the memories of all the time we spent here. It was a time that we all learned about life and a time that will carry us on to the future."

Miss Gano cited the United States is celebrating a milestone in history this summer and she said: "so is the class of 1976." The speaker added: "Independence changed the lifestyle of the nation and after 13 years of training the seniors are ready to face changes."

Miss Gano predicted "June of 1976 will bring us many lasting changes as did July of 1776."

Continuing, Miss Gano said "We are a strong class. We have proved that we could work together. Now is the time to prove we can take our talents and energies and involve more people in the many aspects of life where our interests lie."

"So let's start right in. The world is moving rapidly and there is plenty of work for each of us to do."

Miss Gano thanked the community for providing academic and extra curricular programs of high quality and teachers and parents for their help.

President of the senior class, Richard Kinney, said in his welcoming address: "Question times. We must ask ourselves what is best for us, because in the end we have only ourselves to answer to. We alone will be responsible for our decisions."

He also said: "There's a whole country full of possibilities, even a whole world, waiting for us. But above all, we should act. We should do something meaningful, something to move us closer to our goals."

Richard C. Higgs, principal of St. Joseph high school, said the graduates had completed requirements for graduation and he asked the board of education to issue their diplomas.

Ross Field Board Eyes 'Free' Land

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

The Twin City Airport board yesterday instructed Manager Ronald Momany to investigate the possibility of obtaining land at no charge from the nearby sanitary landfill for use as a dumping site for sand and silt dredged from the local harbor.

The airport, Ross field, has been proposed many times as a site for harbor dredgings. Also at yesterday's meeting the four present board officers were re-elected to office. They were John Banyon, chairman; Donald Ross, vice chairman; Don Ramon, secretary and Joe Carver, treasurer. The terms are one year. The land the airport wants to acquire is a ravine that borders a site the airport board has already proposed be used for dredgings from the inner harbor. The proposed airport site is at the north end of Ross field.

Board Member Gerald W. Hepler, city manager of St. Joseph, said the U.S. Corps of Engineers recently expressed interest in the ravine as a possible site for harbor dredgings. Hepler said the Northwest Berrien County Landfill authority was contacted about allowing the site to be used for dredgings. He said the authority board indicated it did not want to get involved with the dredging project because it didn't know if the landfill would be open for the full 10 years required for a dredge site.

However, Hepler said the authority board did say it might consider giving the land to the airport to go along with their dredge site.

The St. Joseph city commission has gone on record in favor of the site proposed by the airport board, but the Benton Harbor commission has not been in favor of the site. The land is owned jointly by the two cities and both municipalities need to approve it being used for dredgings.

In other business, the board also adopted the 1976-77 budget. The $319,098 budget was detailed in the May 14 edition of The Herald-Palladium.

The board also: —Approved renewal of a contract with United Container Co.,

SJHS Faculty Offers Reward For Vandals

The St. Joseph high school faculty has posted a $500 reward for information leading to "arrest and conviction of those responsible for breaking windows at the high school last week."

Announcement was made by Dan Holt, faculty spokesman, who said the reward offer was by unanimous action of the 56-member faculty.

Twenty-six windows were found broken at the high school early last Friday morning.

Holt said: "The faculty is appalled at what happened and we do not condone vandalism in any form."

Determination of the reward recipient or recipients will be made by St. Joseph police, Holt said.

Yesterday, the St. Joseph board of education rescinded an earlier decision and voted to allow seven seniors identified as allegedly splattering eggs, syrup and littering at the high school last week to participate in commencement exercises last night.

The board also said a work program for all the young men involved in the incident will be implemented as punishment. Details of the program will be established within the next week, Trustee John Pletemeier said.

The board cast the unanimous decision after a 1½ hour closed session with students and parents.

The board had earlier instructed Supt. Burton Aldrich to bar the students from commencement exercises.

Board members said yesterday they based the new decision on the probability that other participants will be identified shortly and will not have to suffer the same punishment.

A total of eight youths have so far been identified as being involved in the incident at the high school, including seven seniors and one 1975 graduate. In addition to the six identified immediately after the incident, St. Joseph police reported that Douglas Mikkelsen, 18, of 1308 Marlin avenue, and Mark Dean Lange, 18, of 2648 Marilyn drive, were booked and released last Friday on a charge of illegal entry of the building.

"It is apparent to the board of education today that many others beyond those already identified were involved in various activities that night," Aldrich said. "The board knows already that many remain to be identified with the prankish aspects as opposed to the property destruction and other vandalism activities," Aldrich said he expects an additional 10 to 15 youths will be identified as being involved in the incident.

Last Friday the six youths originally identified as being involved in the incident cleaned up the interior of the school where eggs were thrown in the girls' gym and syrup was splattered on desks in the physics room.

Board President Ray Dumke said earlier it is believed the youths who have been identified were not connected with the window breaking.

Catholic High Report Cards Are Available

Lake Michigan Catholic high school students or their parents may obtain report cards at the high school today and Monday from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Remaining report cards will be mailed on Tuesday, June 15, administrator Raymond Jordan announced.

Trinity Lutheran Will Graduate Class Of 38

Thirty-eight eighth grade students will receive diplomas at graduation exercises tonight at 7:30 in Trinity Lutheran school, St. Joseph.

Claudia Learned, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David Learned, will receive the A.J. Glass Christian Witness award, established by the former principal of Trinity and in his memory. The award is presented to the graduate who has demonstrated outstanding characteristics in responsibility, dedication and leadership.

Heidi Weimann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Weimann, is class valedictorian. Salutatorian is Steven Brink, son of Mrs. Marion Brink and the late Dr. John Brink.

Brian Young, eighth grader, will address the graduates on "Dreams." The invocation will be by the Rev. Daniel Streifert and benediction by Rev. Paul Kachucke, Trinity Lutheran pastors.

Principal Glenn W. Eckert will present the class to Willmar Schilling, chairman of the board of education, who will award diplomas.

Gard Students Hailed For Aid To Elderly

Twenty students from Gard school for the handicapped in St. Joseph were recently honored for help the students rendered during the school year to residents of Shoreham Terrace nursing home.

Trophies were presented to the students by Roger Newman, director of activities at Shoreham Terrace, during a special luncheon hosted by the nursing home staff.

In addition to shopping for residents, students participated in a wheelchair program and built bird houses for residents. Gard teachers who participated in the awards luncheon were Muriel Reed, Everett Martin, Pat Hageman, and Mary Hendrick.

Office Manager

NANCY DANDREA

St. Joseph Art Center Office Manager
Staff photo

Nancy Dandrea has been named new office manager of the St. Joseph Art Center, according to Mrs. Donald Ladrow, president of the St. Joseph Art Association.

Announcement was made at a tea and reception hosted by the association's board of directors June 8 at the art center.

At a May luncheon at Berrien Hills Country club, the association honored Friends of the Arts, a group which has donated hours of time and volunteers in the Gallery Shop at the art center. Members were presented with pins and ribbons for their service by Mrs. Colin Kennedy, chairman of Friends of the Arts.

Receiving the highest award for service was Mrs. Thomas Adams with 228 hours, followed by Mrs. Gene Whitlow and Mrs. Valorie Kerry with over 100 hours of volunteer time. Others receiving pins or ribbons included Mrs. Stanley Burns, Mrs. C.A. Coon, Mrs. Wayne Cooper, Mrs. John Cross, Mrs. George B. Finch, Mrs. John Helsley, Mrs. Richard Maxwell, Mrs. John Nemethy, Miss Gwendolyn Niles, Mrs. Rocco Roberli, Mrs. Len Schwartz, Mrs. Harold Scherell, Mrs. Thomas Wainwright, and Mrs. Hunter Wright.

Mrs. Dandrea came to this community from Elmira, N.Y., in January of this year. She attended the University of Vermont, graduated cum laude from Elmira college in New York and obtained her master's degree in education with a concentration in English from Elmira in 1972.

Her work experience includes education director of the Albany Institute of History and Art, Albany, N.Y.; secretary-receptionist for a thoracic surgeon; faculty associate in English and director of a writers' workshop at Elmira college; teacher-therapist at Elmira Psychiatric Center and, prior to coming to Michigan, English teacher in the Elmira school system.

For over 15 years Mrs. Dandrea has been an active member and volunteer for community organizations. As a member of the Junior League of Elmira, she served as education chairman and was editor of the group's monthly news sheet. She helped coordinate the annual Junior Artists awards sponsored by the Junior League and held at Elmira's Artot Art Museum.

While serving as a board member for the Chemung County Historical Society, she helped organize and arrange a traveling exhibit of early American artifacts for school children.

She was chairman of the Citizen's Committee for Better Education, a group engaged in finding qualified persons to run for school board positions, was a volunteer for cancer, polio and United Fund drives, and was a Brownie Scout leader and served on the education committee for her church.

She and her husband, Carmine, a professor of English and poet at Lake Michigan college, reside in Stevensville.

Mrs. Michael Tanelli, vice president of the art association and chairman of the annual art fair, has announced that the fair on the bluff in St. Joseph is set for Sunday, July 11.

Miss Michigan Pageant Near

Scheduled
June 14-19

The countdown has begun on "Pugent '76," the 1976 Miss Michigan Scholarship Pageant now in its 46th year.

Thirty-two girls from throughout the state will vie for the crown during pageant week June 14-19 at the L.C. Walker Arena in Muskegon.

Three contestants are from the southwestern Michigan area. They are Tonda Rae Bian, Bangor, Miss Van Buren county; Diane Kaye Hansen, Berrien Center, Miss Southwest Michigan, representing Berrien and Cass counties; and Amy Ruth Wellman, Allegan, Miss Allegan county. Kathleen Annette Skelton, White Pigeon, Miss Heart of Michigan, who was also first runner-up in the Miss Southwest Michigan pageant this year, will also be a contestant.

Nearly $30,000 in scholarships is offered by the Miss Michigan Pageant and its preliminaries. Many additional awards, including Miss Michigan's official new automobile, will be awarded to the winner.

Pageant week begins with registration Monday, June 14. Rehearsals and other activities lead up and through the two preliminary nights and the final night will not culminate until the special awards during the "After Glow" immediately following Saturday's final.

Following Monday morning registration, the contestants "check in" at the private homes in which they will stay until Wednesday, at which time they, with chaperones, move into a local hotel for the remainder of the pageant.

One of the first official duties of the girls, as contestants follows at the annual "Poolside News Conference." The girls will gather at poolside for photographs and interviews.

Rehearsals begin Tuesday morning and Wednesday is parade day. Over 50 units and over 1,000 participants will be seen by thousands of area residents and visitors.

The first preliminary will be held Thursday night.

The Miss Michigan Scholarship Pageant is a preliminary for the Miss America pageant. Hundreds of local volunteers participate in staging the week-long event. The 21-member board of directors is in charge of making policies for the non-profit corporation.

Planning for the 1976 pageant began almost immediately following the crowning of Julie Ann Beckers as Miss Michigan last June. Jack Bushong, a Muskegon insurance agent, is executive director, a position he has held since 1960.

Producing this year's show is Ginny Carter and Hank Rieckels Jr., both of Muskegon and in their second year as producers.

The Miss Michigan Pageant moved to Muskegon from Detroit in 1949 and was sponsored by the Greater Muskegon Jaycees. In 1963 the non-profit corporation was formed. By 1953 the state-wide affair had eight contestants and a budget of $800. Today up to 50 queens take part in the annual production with an annual cost of over $50,000.

Three Miss Michigans have gone on to Miss America fame — Pamela Eldred, Detroit, 1969; Nancy Ann Fleming, Whitehall, 1960; and Patricia Connely, Detroit, 1951.

MISS HEART OF MICHIGAN
Kathleen Annette Skelton

Kathleen Annette Skelton, 19, Miss Heart of Michigan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Skelton of White Pigeon.

A 1975 honors graduate of Constantine high school, Miss Skelton has just completed her freshman year at Michigan State university, where she is majoring in political science and pre-law.

She has held several other titles, including first runner-up in this year's Miss Southwest Michigan Scholarship Pageant, and second runner-up in Miss Heart of Michigan Pageant in 1974. She was also Miss Majorette of Michigan in 1975.

She has been a baton twirler for 13 years and will perform a twirling act for her talent presentation.

MISS VAN BUREN COUNTY
Tonda Rae Bian

Tonda Rae Bian, 21, Miss Van Buren county, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bian of Bangor. She will graduate in December of this year from Western Michigan university, where she is majoring in dance education and communications.

For the past two years, Miss Bian has been with a WMU touring dance ensemble.

She will begin her student teaching at Lakeshore high school in the fall.

MISS SOUTHWEST MICHIGAN
Diane Kaye Hansen

Diane Kaye Hansen, 23, Miss Southwest Michigan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hansen of Berrien Center.

A social studies and science teacher at Eau Claire middle school, Miss Hansen is a graduate of Taylor university, Upland, Ind.

She plans to work toward her master's degree in education as well as further her music education.

She will perform on the piano for her talent presentation in the pageant.

MISS ALLEGAN COUNTY
Amy Ruth Wellman

Amy Ruth Wellman, 18, Miss Allegan county, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Wellman, route 7, Allegan, and is a 1976 Allegan high school graduate.

She is also Miss Allegan County Harvest Queen for 1975-76.

In high school, Miss Wellman was a member of National Honor Society, vice president of her class, a cheerleader and a member of the tennis team.

She would like to pursue a teaching career in physical education or recreation or music.

For her talent presentation, Miss Wellman will sing "We'll Never Love Like This Again" from the movie "Towering Inferno," and will accompany herself on the piano.

LAKESHORE GUILD Weekend Show

GUEST ARTIST: Arvydas Algninas of the American Academy of Art, Chicago, will be a guest artist for the sixth annual art show sponsored by the Lakeshore Art Guild. The show will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 12, and from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, June 13, at the Donald C. Cook Nuclear Center, Bridgman.

Sixth annual art show sponsored by the Lakeshore Art Guild will be held Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13, at the Donald C. Cook Nuclear center, Bridgman.

Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Art work and crafts of club members will be for sale. Works on display will include oil, watercolor, pastel, pen and ink and charcoal paintings, jewelry, mosaics, sculpture, quilting and needlepoint.

Guest artists will include Arvydas Algninas of the American Academy of Art in Chicago, who will exhibit oil paintings, and Wendy Wilcox, portrait artist of Michigan City, Ind.

Algninas is a native of Lithuania and is a naturalized United States citizen. He worked as a commercial artist for several years before joining the Academy where he teaches figure drawing and painting.

Wendy Wilcox will be a working artist in charcoal for the exhibit. Sittings will be available for Saturday and Sunday. She has done fashion illustrations for Carson, Pirie and Scott and free lance work. She has a degree in graphics and has a private studio.

Local guest artists will be Doris Austin, Lucille Sablin, David Jackson, Robert Catania and Margaret Kronewitter.

Art show committee members are Mrs. Louis (Sadock) Veges, chairman, Mrs. Donald (Anna) Wilson, co-chairman, and Mrs. Thomas (Joan) Diener, publicity.

Proceeds from the show will go to the Lakeshore Art Guild's student scholarship fund.

WOMEN CYCLISTS

Some 21 per cent of the motorcyclists in California, according to National Automobile club statistics, are women, but on a national scale five per cent are women.

Give Sculpture To Library

Dedication Sunday

An open house Sunday, June 13, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Lincoln township library, Stevensville, will be held for the purpose of dedicating a bronze sculpture donated to the library by Lakeshore Junior Women's club. Sculptor of the statue is John C. "Jack" Holme, local artist, who said his main objective is to create works that will stimulate impressions, sensations and images in the viewer's mind.

Plans for the sculpture began in January, 1974, when members of the club voted to expend some of the club funds for a lasting contribution to the community.

Although members of the club were on the committee formed to choose an artist, they voted the library board to make the final choice as to the type of piece which would be made and the artist who would be commissioned to do the work.

Holme, born in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, is a graduate in mechanical engineering from the University of British Columbia and was awarded a Canadian government scholarship at the Institute of Design, Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago.

He has taken sculpture courses at Kalamazoo Art Center, Pendland Craft School, N.C., and Andrews university.

The sculptor is employed in marketing research at Whirlpool Corp. and resides with his wife, Selma, and two children at 516 Botham avenue, St. Joseph.

Hosting the Sunday event will be members of the library board and "Friends" of the Library, with Mrs. Donald Chapman and Mrs. John Florin in charge.

Book Sale Saturday

Books will be for sale this Saturday, June 12, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the auditorium of Maud Preston Patenske Memorial library, St. Joseph.

Novels and books in a variety of subject fields will be priced from five to 25 cents, according to Anne Stubbie, librarian.

Included will be paperbacks, book sets, special books, and children's books, records and magazines.

Proceeds will be used to expand the new "Toys-to-Go" collection at the library.

Bridal Showers

Miss Linda Joanne Krumble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. Krumble, Stevensville, has been honored at several bridal showers.

A kitchen shower was given May 16 in her honor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Fred Markward, St. Joseph. Co-hosting the shower with Mrs. Markward were Mrs. Jake Crowder and Mrs. Kathryn Welch, also aunts of the bride.

On May 18, the bride-elect was honored at a shower given by Mrs. Richard Potter and Mrs. Jere Dehring at Gaffen elementary school where Miss Krumble is a third grade teacher.

A miscellaneous shower was given in her honor at the home of Mrs. Leslie LaMarre, St. Joseph, the bride-elect's matron of honor.

The shower was hosted by members of the bridal party including Miss Cathy Sells, maid of honor; Mrs. Kenneth Rehnman, Mrs. Gregory Smith and Mrs. Arnold A. Krumble, sister-in-law, bridesmaids, and Mrs. LaMarre.

Miss Krumble will become the bride of Sanford H. Wise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Coudry, Benton Harbor, June 12 at the First Church of God, St. Joseph.

Baroda Revival Services

BARODA - Revival services are being held at the Baroda Missionary Baptist Mission, 8908 Second street, Baroda, through Saturday, June 12.

Services are being held each night at 7 o'clock with the Rev. Bobby Floyd, pastor of Temple Missionary Baptist church, Michigan City, Ind., as the evangelist.

The public is invited to the services, according to Orless D. Terry, pastor.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM C. GARD

DOWAGIAC - Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gard, Maguelin Lake, Dowagiac, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house, Saturday, June 12, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Peters, 2628 South Valley View drive, St. Joseph.

Friends and relatives are invited.

Hosting the event with the Peters' family will be the couple's other daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. George Wiesemes and Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Stuppy, all of Sister Lakes.

The former Nellie Horan and Gard were married June 12, 1926, in Dowagiac.

They have lived most of their married lives in Benton Harbor, moving to Dowagiac last fall.

Gard is a member of Benton Harbor Lions club and is also a life member of Benton Harbor Elks lodge. Mrs. Gard is a member of Benton Harbor Ladies.

Prior to retiring in 1963, Gard was employed by Peoples Savings Association, Benton Harbor.

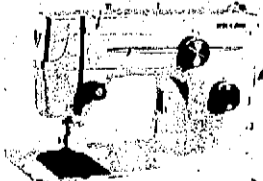

The couple has 13 grandchildren.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

She Can't Speak His Name

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is one I have never read about in your column nor have I ever heard it mentioned by anyone else.

"I find it impossible to call my husband by his name when I am speaking to him. I don't use any endearing substitutes either, such as "honey" or "dear." I just don't call him anything.

When I was younger I had the same problem with another man for whom I cared deeply. Is it emotional? Can you explain why I'm like this? How can I get over it? Thanks for any help you can give me.

— Short Circuit In Sandusky

Dear S.C.: According to Dr. Harold Visovsky, Director of the Institute of Psychiatry at Northwestern Memorial Hospital, there may be one of two reasons for your "problem," depending on how you feel about your husband.

If you have a warm and loving relationship, your inability to call him by his name is an attempt to deny this close relationship with the purpose of protecting it against a possible loss.

If you feel some deep-seated resentment against him, some hidden anger, perhaps, your refusal to address him by name is your way of keeping him at arm's length.

So, look inside, honey, and take your pick.

Yesterday Katie came over to discuss their plans. Suddenly she said, "Do you think you could water my plants when we're gone? Six weeks is a long time for plants to go without water."

"I asked, 'SIX WEEKS?'" She said, "Yes, it wouldn't pay to take a trip like that for a shorter time."

When I found my tongue I explained that my husband's vacation begins on the 15th and we were taking our four children across country in a camper. "Well," Katie shot back, "you can take Jimmie along. He'd love it!" I almost dropped my teeth.

My husband says he doesn't want his child on our vacation and allowed as how it was not of gulls for anyone to leave a kid with friends for six weeks. I hate to lose her friendship. What should I do? — Unglued In Carolina

Affair Is Sick

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 18-year-old girl who needs some answers. I learned from your column that alcoholism is a sickness. What about fathers who cheat? Is that a sickness, too?

Ever since my mother told me Daddy has been having an affair with a woman he works with I find it hard to be decent to him. I'd feel better if I thought he was "sick." What about it? — B.C. Girl

Dear B.C.: In a way it is sick, so consider it as such and try to be civil. Too bad your mother told you. She should have unloaded her anger and frustration in a counselor or clergyman and left you out of it.

Don't get burned by a "line" that's too hot to handle. Play it cool with Ann Landers' guide to "Necking and Petting — What Are the Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Call It Pride

My sister is coming for a visit next week. We have grown up together, shared the same bed, the same parents, and eaten off the same ice cream cone. We're very close.

I do not want her to know that I have poker chips in my planters and winter ironing hidden in a beer cooler.

I've broken my back to make this house look like people have never lived here. For the first time in four years (her last visit) the dining-room table is visible.

I don't know how the White House handles state visits, but I work from a Master Plan. Weeks ago, I made a list of things that needed to be done according to priorities.

1. Get the Christmas candle off the hall table in the entryway.
2. Throw away junk mail on back of commode.
3. Get the dog laundered.

5. Replace pocketbook of "Valley of the Dolls" on coffee table with new historical hardcover.
6. Remove light bulb in the oven.
7. Take Colonel Sanders phone number off bulletin board and replace with bread recipes.
8. Buy children new underwear and shoes.
9. Buy size 10 bathrobe and offer to loan it to her while she is here.
10. Harvest household of dead plants and replace with new ones three hours before she arrives.

Call it pride. Call it pressure from the Board of Health, but I want things to be perfect.

My husband found me trying to get the ironing board down. "Get me with this," I said. "What are you trying to do?" he asked.

"Take this thing down. It is collapsible, isn't it?"

"Haven't you ever taken it down before?"

"Never."

"Maybe there's a release here somewhere. Here we go. Now, where do you want it?"

"I don't know. Wherever people put these things. Try under the bed with the electric football and the Easter baskets."

"Now what?"

"Whatever's on the list. Me? I have to work on my thin wish."

Maple Sugar Film Monday

"Maple Sugar Farmer" will be the free film shown Monday, June 14, at 12:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the Benton Harbor public library.

The public is invited and anyone wishing to bring a lunch may do so.

"Maple Sugar Farmer" is a portrait of Sherman Graft, an old farmer who keeps alive a six generation family tradition, working with hand-hewn spiles, buckels and an old kettle. As he goes about his activities, he remembers and shares the early years.

Books added to the library collection include "House Plants," Dorothy Hoobier; "The Mids Consequence," Michael Ayton; "His Highness Commands," Penelope; "The Z-Papers," Geoffrey Simmonds; "Wild Grow the Lilies," Christy Brown; "The Power of Alpha Thinking," Jesse Stern; "Playground," John Bull, and "Foreign Affairs and Other Stories," Sean O'Faolain.

The key to the solution of this problem is to plan a course of treatment rather than wait hopefully for the problem to disappear.

I have an embarrassing social problem. I can't tell my doctor about it. I can't even write about it to you. I don't know what to do. — Mr. D.C., N.J. Dear Mr. C.

Let me assure you that your own doctor has heard every conceivable variation of any intimate problem that could distress you. Let me further assure you that he will maintain the secrecy of your problem and that he will continue to be a trustworthy confidant.

Your faith in him will be rewarded by the psychological support and the medical judgment he can offer to you. Do it soon.

Plan Area Meetings

WATERVLIET — Watervliet Chapter No. 232, Order of Eastern Star, will meet Monday, June 14, at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

A new member will be initiated, a proficiency class will be conducted, and fathers will be honored.

LAWRENCE — Rising Sun Lodge No. 119, F&AM, will hold a special meeting Thursday, June 17, for work on the fellowcraft degree.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be held in the Masonic hall.

WATERVLIET — Past Masters club of Watervliet Chapter No. 232, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a family night meeting Tuesday, June 15, at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Owen, Little Paw Paw Lake road, Coloma.

A potluck supper will precede the meeting.

Mrs. Duane Rockwell and Mrs. Clarence Butsch will be co-hostesses.

Dear Ann: I must make a big decision and you've got to help me.

My best friend and her husband asked if I would look after her little boy when she and her husband went on vacation. I said yes — thinking it would be a week or so.

Dr. Lester Coleman

My 5-year-old boy was born with only one testicle. At what age do you think we should tell him about this? — Mrs. B.L., Okla. Dear Mrs. L.:

Undoubtedly, he is not yet aware that such a problem exists. You are wise to anticipate both the physical and the psychological implications of this condition.

The testes normally lie in the abdominal cavity in the unborn infant. Then they slowly descend into the scrotal sac by the time the child is born.

A number of factors may interfere with the proper descent of the testes. Occasionally, there is some mechanical obstruction. In other instances, there may be some hormone insufficiency to account for this.

Sometimes, one testicle will descend while the other remains in the abdominal cavity.

In these instances, the undescended testicle may, up to the time of puberty, spontaneously descend. Yet I do not think that you should wait in the hope that this will occur, without constructive efforts to remedy this. The accumulation of new concepts of hormone imbalance makes it possible for the testicle to be "forced" to descend with hormone treatments.

If, after a reasonable period of time, this does not occur, surgery usually can, in one or two stages, bring the testicle down to its proper position.

JERRY WEINTRAUB
Along with a vacation

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I think I am the best, my clients are the best, and I spotlight them in the best possible way." The comment is reminiscent of Muhammad Ali but it comes from Jerry Weintraub, champion of a different kind. As manager of show biz superstars, there is no one better.

In a recent week Weintraub was expertly juggling these activities:

A three-day stand — at a reported $500,000 — for Neil

Diamond at Las Vegas's new Aladdin Theater;

A week of charity concerts by John Denver, at the Universal Amphitheater here;

A commercial tie-up for Dorothy Hamill with Chalk;

A new tour for Elvis Presley; A stand at the Latin Casino in New Jersey for Frank Sinatra;

An engagement of the Carpenters at Lake Tahoe;

A television to benefit One to One in New York City;

Resumption of filming "9-30-55," which Weintraub is producing for Universal;

Launching a new group, Starland Vocal Band of Wind-sung Records, which Weintraub owns;

Plus preparations for five musical-variety TV shows in the fall.

In the midst of all this, Weintraub managed to take his wife, singer Jane Morgan, and their two children on a four-day vacation to Idaho.

Jerry Weintraub has brought to the music business the razzle-dazzle of the late lightbulb Mike Todd.

"Todd made everything an event," says Weintraub. "I admire him very much. I also admire P. T. Barnum, who was a great showman. And I consider (Presley mentor) Col. Tom Parker one of the great innovators of our business. I learned an immense amount from him."

Weintraub is a dynamic six-footer of 39 with eyes that can penetrate clients, buyers and interviewers alike. His ambition began in his Brooklyn boyhood and flowered when he returned from military service and discovered he could be educated at government expense.

He enrolled in acting studies at the famed Neighborhood Playhouse in New York. When director Sanford Meisner asked why he wanted to be an actor, Jerry gave an honest answer: "I want to make money." His fellow students included James Cagney, Elizabeth Ashley and Brenda Vaccaro, and he soon realized he couldn't keep up with such company.

"Next I went to NBC as a page boy," he recalled. "The pay wasn't much, but I was able to sell free tickets to television shows for $5 apiece."

He worked in the mail room at the William Morris agency, learned of an opening at the rival MCA. His salary jumped from $30 to $150 a week when he was hired for the MCA television department as a "secretary in training." This despite the fact that he couldn't type.

Weintraub branched out with his own agency, hitting it rich when recording clients, The Four Seasons, scored with eight No. 1 sellers. Now he is board chairman of Management III, Ltd., a diverse and ever-growing enterprise.

Movies are a new passion for Weintraub. His first effort was "Nashville," for which he was executive co-producer. Now he has an exclusive deal with Universal, his first film being "9-30-55" — the date of James Dean's death. Filming started in March but had to be postponed until September because star Richard Thomas broke an ankle.

His newest client is Olympic skating champion Dorothy Hamill. He outlined his plan for her career: "I am going to keep her in her strong suit, which is skating. That's why you haven't seen her popping up on talk shows. I want to build up the desire to see her so much that the whole country will tune in to her first TV special in November. And I WON'T TAKE

Golden Era Movie Titan Adolph Zukor Is Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Adolph Zukor, the diminutive immigrant who pioneered feature-length films in America and became one of Hollywood's "Golden Era" titans, is dead at the age of 103.

Zukor's death Thursday at his Century City apartment was attributed to natural causes.

Zukor, who built the Paramount Pictures empire from a tiny penny arcade, brought the feature film to America with "Queen Elizabeth" in 1911, featuring Sarah Bernhardt.

John Barrymore and Mary Pickford — "America's Sweetheart" — were among the stars Zukor brought to the screen.

Orphaned at seven, Zukor lived with relatives in his native Hungary until he voyaged to America alone with a $40 stake sewn in his waistcoat.

Zukor found his first job in a New York fur store, which brought him a $2 weekly paycheck. In four years he had his own shop in Chicago.

A penny arcade featuring 45-second penny films was the movie pioneer's entrance into the entertainment business. The arcade business thrived, and Zukor, the businessman, gave birth to Zukor the showman.

If people were willing to gaze into the flickering peepholes of the nickelodeon, he reasoned, wouldn't they pay more to sit

Jobless Rate

Dip Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate will fall below 7 per cent by the end of the year, according to President Ford's top economic adviser.

Chairman Alan Greenspan of the President's Council of Economic Advisers also predicted Thursday that inflation and economic output will be better than originally forecast but cautioned that "there do not appear to be compelling reasons to make major changes in the overall outlook for 1976."

down and watch a movie?

So in 1912, Zukor and four associates formed the first motion picture corporation, and he opened the first movie theater, where he ran one-and-two-reel films.

But Zukor was soon ready for bigger things. In 1911 he bought the American and Canadian rights to the French "Queen Elizabeth" for $40,000. He made a net profit of $20,000 on the venture and was on his way.

He formed the Famous Players Film Co. and produced "The Prisoner of Zenda," the first American-made feature film. Zukor himself signed Mary Pickford.

High Court Affirms Criticism Privilege Of Officials

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in three months, the Supreme Court has rejected a claim that an individual's constitutional rights were violated because a public official made statements damaging to his reputation.

Two justices, in dissent, describe the decision as a blow to the concept of due process.

By a 5-4 vote, the court said Thursday that a North Carolina policeman was not constitutionally entitled to a hearing before being fired, even though his superior was wrong in saying his work was unsatisfactory.

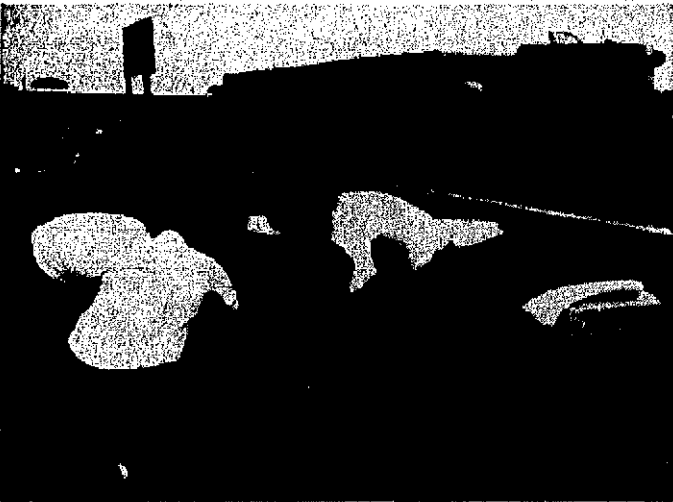

On March 23, the court ruled that reputation alone, apart from more tangible interests such as employment, is not the kind of "liberty" or "property" right which the Constitution's due process clause protects.

That ruling came in the case of a Louisville, Ky., man listed on a police file as a suspected shoplifter. The court said he might have a claim under state libel laws but not in federal court under the Constitution.

Two of the dissenters from Thursday's decision, Justices William Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall, said the earlier ruling was "overtly hostile" to due process but at least left intact in the case of a person losing his job.

Today the court effectively destroyed even that last vestige of protection, they said.

The case arose out of the discharge of a Merion City, N.C., policeman. The officer, W. H. Wood, was told by city manager Carl Bishop that his performance had caused low morale and that he had failed to follow orders.

FLIPPED TRUCK: Three emergency medical men lift Arthur O. Ohler, onto a stretcher. Ohler, 44, of Tiffin, Ohio, lost control of the truckload of auto parts he was hauling Thursday night at an interstate junction in Brighton, Mich. He was taken to McPherson Hospital, treated for minor injuries and released. (AP Wirephoto)

The court also said that the impact on Wood's constitutional rights would have been "no greater even if we assume the city manager deliberately lied."

But, as in the Louisville case, it said this might have given him a claim under a state law. In another 3-4 decision, the court ruled that a prisoner without funds who has passed up his chance to appeal his conviction is not automatically entitled to a free transcript of his trial if he later decides to seek his freedom through a writ of habeas corpus.

The law already guarantees a transcript to a prisoner who can satisfy a judge that he needs one and that the claim he is making is not frivolous.

The court said this is enough. Justice John Paul Stevens spoke for the dissenters, saying a judge can often have no way to tell whether the prisoner's claim has any merit unless he has a transcript to study.

Berrien Narrows Grant List Choices

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

The finance committee of the Berrien board of commissioners Thursday tentatively divided $539,801 in federal revenue sharing funds among four recipients, with the county jail getting more than half.

The committee recommended $377,101 go towards a major remodeling project at the jail, which is still in the planning stages. Members said the money would be set aside in hopes of awarding more revenue sharing funds to the jail at a later date. There is no set timetable for beginning the remodeling, according to County Coordinator Roger Petrie.

Also tentatively receiving funds were the county's computer services department, $78,000 for additional computer hardware; $75,000 to the county's economic development program to promote new industries and jobs in Berrien; and $9,700 to Gateway, Inc., of Berrien Springs, to pay off the mortgage of the organization's facility there.

The awards are only tentative, since the entire county board must approve the allocations. The matter is scheduled to be acted upon when the board meets June 17.

The committee pared requests from 18 agencies to the final four, with the total amount requested from the 18 coming to $1,145,100. Among those cut were the county Youth Fair, Historical Society, Twin Cities airport, Berrien General Hospital, Twin City Symphony, and Twin Cities Area Safety Council.

$100,000 Steimle Estate In Probate

Probate proceedings have been initiated in Berrien Probate court on the estimated $100,000 estate of Earl H. Steimle, of Fairplain, who died June 2.

Steimle, 67, of 2480 Riverbend drive, was a recently retired consultant in the food processing industry, and was general manager of the Solus Fruit Exchange from 1960 to 1968. He also served 13 years as president of the Michigan Frozen Food Packers' association.

LANDMARK TUMBLES One landmark in Berrien Springs is coming down — in an effort to improve another one. John G. Yerington Concrete Co., Benton Harbor, is tearing down old Berrien Springs junior high school building on US-31-33 in village as part of effort to improve old Berrien county courthouse square area. Village purchased building at cost of $15,000, using federal community development funds, from "Minutemen" organization which had purchased building for same amount from school district. Spokesman for Yerington, which has been awarded a $23,600 contract by village to tear down building, said work is expected to be completed by next week. (Walter Booth photo)

'No Progress' At Whirlpool

There is still no progress in a contract dispute between Whirlpool Corp. and Local 1918, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, company and union spokesmen confirmed today.

Major assembly operations at the St. Joseph division have been halted since midnight May 6 when union workers rejected Whirlpool's final offer for a new three-year contract.

Jay VanDenBerg, chief spokesman for Whirlpool, said union workers are still locked out of the plants and the last offer Whirlpool made to the union "is the company's final offer."

Edward Kepp, business manager for Local 1918, reported the union has been in touch with the federal mediator and the mediator is attempting to set up a meeting for the two sides to go to the bargaining table. "We've called the company several times and asked them to come and meet with us but they said to go through the mediator," Kepp said.

Asked if he thought the union might back down on some of its demands, Kepp replied: "We're open on all issues."

Men Are Sentenced

PAV PAW — Two young Hartford men were ordered in district court here yesterday to make restitution for damages to a door-to-a building in Hartford which had been kicked open.

The sentence was handed down after Norman Myer Jr. and Kurt Gaddis, both 18, of the Park hotel, Hartford, pleaded guilty to charges of unlawful entry of the building.

Hartford police said the two were arrested after a citizen notified them that two people were breaking into the city's old pump house on Center street.

According to police, two men were taken into custody as they left the building, now owned by Dr. Carl Boothby. Nothing was reported taken in the break-in.

Foster Care Bid Denied In Benton

Ambid both strong opposition and support, the Benton township planning commission last night voted unanimously to deny a request to allow an increase in the number of residents at a foster care home at 1629 Colfax avenue.

The request was made by William Lane, who operates the foster home for the mentally impaired, to increase the number of residents at the home from three to 12.

Some 25 people, mostly residents in the immediate area of the home, attended the public hearing on the request, with those favoring and opposing about evenly divided.

Supporters said there was a definite need for a facility to take care of the mentally handicapped and that the mentally impaired could best learn to function by being in a normal residential living situation.

Opponents said the foster care home lacked adequate supervision to prevent the patients from wandering in the community and said the patients would also be subjected to harassment from neighborhood children.

The planning commission took the action to deny after hearing a committee report stating the foster care home was not equipped to handle the increase to 12 people.

Planning Commissioner Charles Duncan, chairman of the foster care study committee, reported only three rooms in the home could be used as bedrooms under the township's housing code and said there were numerous fire safety hazards in increasing the number of residents to 12.

The planning commission's action continues the limitation of three residents at the foster care home.

In other business, the planning commission recommended the township apply for $40,100 from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) which would be used to update the township's 1965 basic land-use plan.

If the grant is approved, $25,000 would come from HUD and $15,100 would be provided from the township's 1970-1977 Community Development grant. The grant would be provided by HUD through the state Department of Management and Budget.

Phillip McKenna, principal planner for Perkins, Rogers and Associates, Inc., a Detroit consulting firm which would conduct the study, said an update of the township's land-use plan is especially crucial with the development of the Pipestone mall shopping center and the Pipestone Industrial Development District. He said his firm will receive all but $3,300 of the $40,100 to conduct the study.

Last year, the township planning commission voted disapproval of the same grant primarily because they were not consulted prior to the township board of trustees' approval of the application. The planning commission is an advisory body that makes recommendations to the board of trustees.

The planning commission recommended to the board of trustees that renewal of a used car license for the East end Auto Supply at 1570 Red Arrow highway, be held up until the license holder cleans up the area around his used car business.

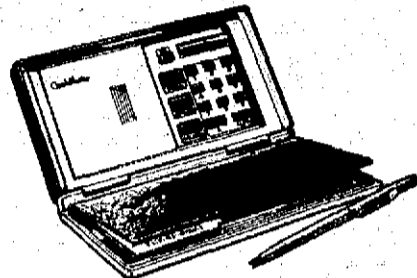

The commission also recommended approval of a peddler's license for Thomas Rauls at 215 North Fair avenue.

Young Anglers Hospitalized In Freak Crash

Two young Stevensville boys were seriously injured while fishing Thursday when they were struck by a guard rail that had been hit by a car at Grand Mere creek in Lincoln township, according to state police of the Benton Harbor post.

Reported in "critical" condition today at Memorial hospital with head injuries and a broken leg was David Mayhew, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mayhew, 1615 Barbara Ann court.

Listed in "fair" condition at the hospital with possible abdominal injuries and a concussion was John Kroegel, 10, son of Mrs. and Mrs. James Kroegel, 1628 Barbara Ann court.

went out of control and struck the guard rail, which in turn hit the two boys.

Shaffer said the accident occurred about 2:45 p.m. on the bridge over Grand Mere creek which runs between the two Grand Mere lakes. He reported the car went out of control as it turned from Grand Mere road onto the road leading to Grand Mere park.

No tickets were issued at the time of the accident and Shaffer reported an investigation is continuing. Neither the driver nor a passenger in her car were hurt, the report said.

Housing Budget Adopted

SOUTH HAVEN — A $106,040 budget for fiscal 1977 was approved by the South Haven Housing commission during a special meeting last night.

The budget, which is subject to final approval by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, includes $72,850 for operating expenses and $33,390 for non-routine expenditures. It is to be effective July 1.

Operating expenses for the current year are expected to total $84,820 and non-routine expenditures $9,530.

The commission has estimated operating receipts of $87,070, as opposed to current year projections of $88,200.

The 1977 expenditures include financing for non-routine installation of an air conditioner sleeve in each of the Harbor View senior citizens apartment building's 31 units to solve a ventilation problem.

Under the new budget, the salary of executive director Dennis DeVinney would be increased from $12,000 to $13,518 in accordance with a review by the Michigan Municipal League and a six per cent hike to be given all city employees July 1.

The salaries of the commission's secretary and maintenance man would both also be increased six per cent next fiscal year. The hourly rate for the secretary was set at up to $3.50 and the rate of the maintenance employee $4.63.

The commission increased the daily car allowance for the maintenance man from $2 to $3 a day.

The commission is also implementing a retirement system for its employees through the Michigan Municipal Employees Retirement system in the new budget.

Proposed expenditures by category with last year's in parentheses are: administration $22,390 ($22,530), tenant services $200 ($100), utilities $9,720 ($10,000), ordinary maintenance and operation $25,160 ($21,310), insurance $1,730 ($1,550), payments to City of South Haven in lieu of taxes $7,460 ($5,440), employee fringe benefits $5,890 ($3,100), and collection losses $1,200 ($800).

The budget provides for a $17,934 subsidy from the federal government. Commissioners noted that the actual operations of the housing program is self-supporting, but that the subsidy was necessary in order to undertake the improvements to the ventilation system at Harbor View. Last year the commission received a $19,002 subsidy. The commission's reserve at the end of the 1977 fiscal year is estimated to be $30,780 compared to projections for the current year of $31,796.

SJ Firemen Called To 2 Schools

St. Joseph firemen were called to two schools in two separate minor incidents last evening.

At 7:15 p.m. firemen reported they were called to Jefferson elementary school, South State street, to investigate a fire which had been extinguished by the custodian. An incinerator had been emptied into a metal container and placed next to a desk in the boiler room. The desk caught fire, it was reported. Damage was limited to the desk with some smoke damage to the room.

At 8:05 p.m. firemen discontinued a pothole, which had overheated and was smoking. In the circle parking lot at the front of St. Joseph high school.

Graduation Spectator Arrested

St. Joseph police said a man who allegedly created a disturbance during St. Joseph high school graduation ceremonies at Dickinson stadium Thursday was arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Police reported a man entered the west entrance to the stadium about 8:20 p.m. and began shouting, disturbing people by drowning out the speaker. A bottle of liquor was confiscated, police said, when the man was arrested under the west side stands.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was Bruce Edward Linton, 22, of 145 Kline avenue, Benton Harbor.

Crash Puts Cyclist In Hospital

BUCHANAN — A Sawyer man was hospitalized yesterday after the motorcycle he was driving struck a car that turned in front of him at the intersection of Red and Dewey streets, according to Buchanan police.

The motorcycle driver, Robert L. Fry, 35, route 1, Sawyer, was listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Memorial hospital, South Bend. Officials said Fry's motorcycle was traveling southbound on Red Bud trail about 3:45 p.m. yesterday when a northbound car driven by Emeline Gillely, 61, of 308 Victory street, Buchanan, turned left in front of him.

Mrs. Gillely, who was not injured, was cited for failure to yield the right of way, officers said.

supervisor, told township board members last night that because of difficulties in transferring the necessary emergency equipment to sheriff's department, Col. George Halverson, state the Berrien county police director, agreed to allow the emergency calls to be dispatched from the New Buffalo post until that time.

Svehla reported the cost of extending the 408-1414 emergency number to the sheriff's department will be $52 for installation plus a monthly charge of $54 to be divided between the three municipalities.

The township board approved paying $18 per month in the telephone company for its share of the emergency number.

The board also accepted a proposed agreement with Chikaming township to pay $150 for the annual cost and operation of the base station at Chikaming for emergency calls. Chikaming township officials are requesting each of the three municipalities, (New Buffalo, New Buffalo township and Three Oaks) to each pay $150 per year for use of the base station for costs of operating it. In other areas, the board authorized the Lakeside Electronics company to install the necessary electronic units to operate the township fire equipment more effectively. Total cost was estimated at $230. Laverne Krueger, was appointed by the board as acting fire commissioner, replacing Stanley Kanger, who resigned last month to become township trustee following the resignation of Frank Cernak. The board approved paying township election workers $2.30 per hour for work in the May 18 election with an additional $5 each for two election precinct captains. Election workers formerly received $2 per hour.

A special meeting was scheduled for 8 p.m. June 21 in conjunction with the township planning commission to act on a request from Michigan Bell Telephone company to install a conduit pipe across the Galien river in the township. Approval must be granted by the board before the state department of natural resources will issue a permit to the telephone company.

Two Seats, 5.5 Mills At Stake In Decatur Vote

DECATUR — A four-way race for two school board seats plus two millage issues face Decatur school district voters in the annual school election here Monday, June 14. Seeking the two, four-year seats are incumbents Frank Kraak and George Kusmack plus challengers James Scheetz and Mrs. Emma Jean Stambeck.

Voters will also decide the fate of a school board request for renewal of 4.5 mills for five years and the addition of one mill for three years.

Based on the district's new state equalized valuation of $20,927,963, each mill would raise about $21,000 in local revenue. The school district's tentative budget for 1976-77 is $1,494,352.

The district's total 1976 millage rate was 24.08 mills. If both millage issues are approved, the 1976 tax rate would be 25.06 mills.

The candidates seeking election to the two board seats include:

Kraak, 40, route 1, 74th avenue, Decatur, seeks his fourth term on the board. A lifelong resident of Decatur, he is a hog farmer. He previously served as school board secretary for nine years and is currently a trustee. He and his wife, Beuna, have three children.

Kusmack, 54, route 1, 42nd avenue, Decatur, seeks his third term on the board. The dairy and hog farmer is currently vice president of the board. A lifelong resident of Decatur, Kusmack and his wife, Sherda, have four children, one still in school.

Scheetz, 28, route 3, Decatur-Cass road, Decatur, teaches agriculture in the Vicksburg school system and is also a cattle and hog farmer. This is his second attempt at a school board seat. He was defeated last year in a similar attempt. He and his wife, Marie, have three daughters.

Mrs. Stambeck, 42, route 3, Old Swamp road, Decatur, is warehouse manager for Koops Freezer in Decatur. Her husband Robert is a farmer. Mrs. Stambeck has never sought an elected public office before, but has been chairman of the Miss Decatur Blossomtime contest and is president of the Little League and Rocket Football League. She has lived in the area for the past 27 years.

Michigan Balloonist Planning To Try Atlantic Next Week

By PATRICK CONNOLLY
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Sometime next week, possibly Tuesday at dusk, a Troy, Mich., man, two live lobsters and a host of provisions will attempt a gas balloon crossing of the Atlantic Ocean.

The lobsters, "from Maine but matured in Michigan," are for eating, because 27-year-old flyer Karl Thomas has a weakness for seafood cuisine as well as lighter-than-air ships.

Thomas hopes to be the first person to balloon across the Atlantic, a distance of roughly 3,500 miles. Eight others have tried and failed.

Thomas feels he has learned by studying their mistakes and, with technology improving almost daily, that he can make it. He's logged almost 10,000 hours of aircraft flying and ballooning but the farthest he ever rode a gas-filled balloon before is 80 miles.

Weather permitting, he will lift from Lakehurst, N.J., Tuesday night and, "if all goes well, set down somewhere in Europe in three to seven days. He is aiming for France, but with unpredictable winds could hit "plus or minus 1,000 miles" from Paris.

"If I see land and it's Europe, I'll land. If it's Ireland, I'll take off my orange suit," he joked Thursday with Gov. William Milliken as the two exchanged autographs and talked adventure in Milliken's Lansing office.

"It's an exciting challenge and I'd really like to go with you," Milliken told the smiling, brown-haired, 160-pound balloonist, as he presented him a Michigan flag to take along.

Thomas' "Spirit of '76" craft towers 80 feet, or about 10 stories, from gondola to tip and will breeze along at an average 30 miles an hour. The balloon will be helium-filled.

Thomas will be equipped with sophisticated navigation aids and five radio systems to communicate with coast guards of seven countries, ships, airplanes, radar stations and a firm of weathermen.

In case of a spill, the aluminum gondola has a mast and sail, and it floats.

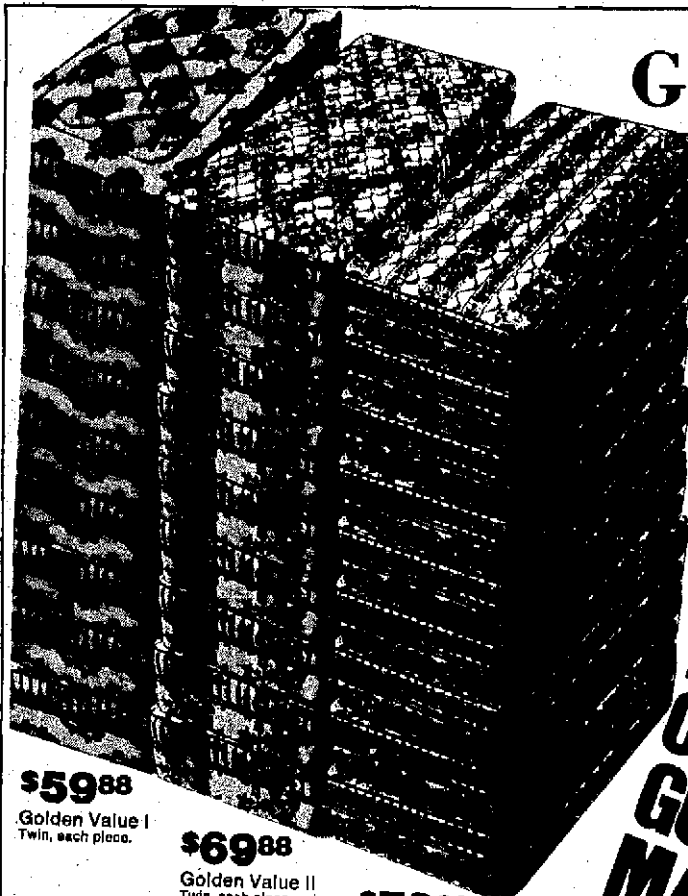

Thomas said he plans to "catnap" two or three hours a day and eat freeze-dried foods and lobster, which he will steam on route.

The biggest obstacle will be "Mother Nature. We are hoping the Atlantic will let be nice to us and let us cross her," Thomas said.

By studying past failures, Thomas said he "tried to be better prepared" than the other trans-Atlantic balloonists.

Three Posts, One Mill Ride On Fennville Ballot

FENNVILLE — Five candidates seeking three available school board terms and a one-mill property tax renewal will be on Fennville school district's June 14 election ballot.

The candidates are incumbents Ronald Hesche and Mrs. Karen Schermer and newcomer Bill Edholm, all seeking two available four-year terms, and newcomers John Kelly and Donald Nye, both seeking one available one-year term. Incumbent Barbara Comeau is not seeking re-election.

The one mill renewal for building maintenance is being sought for a three-year period. Based on the district's state equalized valuation of $27,536,927, the levy would raise about $27,536 the first year.

The district levied 30.80 mills total in the last school year. That included 26.68 mills for operations, 4.04 mills for debt retirement and .07 of a mill for building maintenance (of the one mill the board could have levied). Among the candidates seeking the two available four-year terms, Edholm, 46, 1495 62nd street, Ganges township, is maintenance manager for Glenn Farm of the Joseph Campbell company. He and his wife Connie have seven children and the family has lived in the district for four years.

Hesche, 46, 710 East Main street, route 4, Fennville, is seeking a second four-year term on the board. A former teacher at Fennville, he has been for eight years industrial arts or vocational agricultural teacher at Hamilton high school. His wife's name is Mary and the couple has five children.

Mrs. Schermer, 40, was appointed to the board last November to take the place of Ralph Shaw. Her husband John owns and operates a cold storage firm, Selzer-Freeze, Inc. The couple has three children. The family lives at 522 West Main street, Fennville.

Candidates Kelly and Nye are seeking the one-year term remaining on the unexpired term to which Shaw was elected.

Kelly, 36, 5932 121st avenue, Fennville, is director of clinical laboratory microbiology for the Medical Pathfinder Laboratories in Fennville. He is also director of the Fennville Area Ambulance service and has lived in the school district for about four years. He and his wife Patricia have three children.

Nye, 40, Box 246, 122nd avenue, Fennville, works on the line at Rockwell International in Allegan and is a member of the UAW and a council member of the local's CAP council. He has lived all his life in the area and he and his wife Marilyn have four children.

AMC Ending '76 Output

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp., beset by declining sales and mounting inventories, will end 1976-model car output on June 25 and then shut its auto operations for five weeks, idling

13,000 hourly workers, the firm said Thursday.

In addition, AMC will suspend output of three car models in Kenosha, Wis., and Brampton, Ont., for one week and temporarily lay off 7,000 workers, beginning Monday, a company spokesman said.

AMC said the lengthy shutdown includes a scheduled two-week vacation and an additional three-week closing to reduce inventories and prepare for the start of 1977-model production, which will get underway Aug. 2.

Production of Jeep vehicles and AM General buses are not included in the full shutdown.

The company spokesman said the June 25 cutoff for 1976-model production is one of the earliest model closings in recent history.

WATERVLIET

Hospital Fund Hits $331,490

WATERVLIET — Campaign subscriptions for Watervliet Community hospital's building fund drive have reached $331,490, according to Gordon Knutson, general chairman of the campaign.

He said to date a total of 388 pledges and contributions have been received from individuals, business firms, clubs and organizations.

Of the total, $157,047 has been pledged by hospital trustees, medical staff, employees and auxiliary. Public subscriptions by committee show major gifts of $88,000 and special gifts with $45,073. Other business and industry gifts from corporate donors total $32,394.

By community, Coloma has contributed $26,193, Hartford, $37,780, and Watervliet, $49,102.

"We are very pleased with the results of our calls on prospective donors, and we expect our total subscriptions to continue rising," Knutson said.

The local campaign goal is $750,000. The money is to be used to pay help pay for a proposed new 70-bed facility on 24 acres south of Watervliet high school. The total project cost, including land, is estimated at $5.2 million, with approximately $4 million coming from a 40-year, 5 per cent interest loan from the Farmers Home Administration. Hospital reserves of nearly $400,000 and the local campaign goal of $750,000 will provide the balance.

State GOP Begins Delegate Hassle

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Republican party faithful from the governor to grassroots workers arrive here today to begin debate over who will go to Kansas City in August to help select the GOP presidential nominee.

Republicans will engage in a two-day battle over prized spots at the national convention, selecting 84 delegates and alternates. The squabble will see Ford and Reagan candidates fight internally for seats — with the losers relegated to watching the convention on television.

Delegates to the state convention will hear from Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and Gov. William Milliken, while a lot of politicking for the U.S. Senate race is expected to swirl in the background. Four men are seeking the GOP nomination for the seat to be vacated by retiring Sen. Philip Hart.

President Ford will be represented in Kansas City by 55 delegates from his home state, to be led by Milliken, party Chairman William McLaughlin, Sen. Robert Griffin, a congressman or two, possibly some state lawmakers and a gaggle of dedicated local workers.

A group of 20 delegates for former California Gov. Ronald Reagan will also be chosen, to be led by state Sen. John Wellborn of Kalamazoo, who headed the Reagan campaign in Michigan.

The delegates will be split between the two candidates on the basis of Michigan's May 18 presidential primary, in which Ford took a 65-35 percentage victory.

Fifty-seven of the delegates will be elected by congressional district caucuses Friday. In all but one district — the fifth, made up mainly of Ionia and Kent counties — the caucuses will pick two Ford delegates and one Reagan delegate.

ON EMERGENCY RUN

Car, Ambulance Collide; 1 Hurt

Benton Harbor police investigated two traffic accidents Thursday including one that hospitalized a Galesburg man after his car collided with an ambulance on an emergency run.

The car driver, Bernard Summers, 58, route 1, Cleveland Avenue, Galesburg, was reported in "good" condition today at Memorial Hospital, St. Joseph, where he was admitted for observation of a possible concussion.

Driver of the ambulance, owned by Rampart Ambulance Service, was identified as Jack Arthur Fisher, 19, of 555 Colfax Avenue, Benton Harbor. Police said neither he or another attendant were hurt in the 2:10 p.m. collision at the intersection of Market Street and Colfax Avenue.

According to the police report filed by Patrolman Eli Holland, the ambulance was on an emergency run with its siren and flashers operating when it entered the intersection against a red traffic light. Only the attendants were in the ambulance and police said another ambulance was dispatched to the accident scene. No tickets were issued, police said.

In another accident shortly before midnight, passengers in two cars were hurt when the cars collided at the intersection of Broadway and Colby Street.

The injured were both released after treatment at Memorial Hospital, police reported. Linda Fox, 12, of 338 Colby was a passenger in a car driven by Charlie Kelley, 29, of 157 Township Road, Benton Township. Rose Smith, 34, of 1306 Bishop Avenue, Benton Harbor, was a passenger in a car driven by Robert Moore, 36, of 2198 Colfax Avenue, Fairplain. Neither driver was injured, police reported. Kelley was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way, police reported.

Hays Improving After Overdose

as a press spokesman here, said that Hays made the six-hour, 300-mile trip back the same night and arrived at his farm after midnight.

"Because he had arrived so late, he did not awaken his wife, Pat, the doctor said."

"When Mrs. Hays awakened Thursday morning, she assumed he was just sleeping in because he'd arrived late," said Phillips. "So she didn't try to awaken him until about 11 o'clock. When she couldn't arouse him, she called the ambulance and brought him in at 11:45 a.m."

Phillips said Hays had had chronic diverticulitis, an inflammation of the colon, for several years.

"He'd had an attack of this," Phillips said. "Because of this attack he hasn't been eating well for the past few days and we feel this is possibly why the medication (sleeping pills) is overreacting with him. The diverticulitis is not the primary problem."

Phillips, Carol Clawson, Hays' press secretary, and two medical specialists from the University of Pittsburgh, Drs. Jim Snyder and Robert McDonald, spoke to reporters at today's briefing.

Asked why Hays was in a coma and what had happened, Phillips replied:

"He has taken some sleeping medication, Dalmane, a sleeping pill prescribed for him because he has been under stress. It is an unknown quantity and we are unable for various reasons to reconstruct how much."

"We feel he has possibly overreacted to this because he's been extremely tired and has had very little to eat for the past three days. So we feel he's probably markedly overreacted and may have taken somewhat slightly over a normal dose."

Asked after the briefing if Hays did take an overdose, Phillips said, "That is strictly a matter of semantics. Obviously he overdosed due to the fact that he is in a coma. We still think it was an accidental thing."

When Phillips was asked Thursday night if the overdose was accidental or an attempt at suicide, he said:

"We have absolutely no way to know. There was no note, so we can assume it was probably accidental. We have no reason on which to base that assumption, except that generally if someone has intention of suicide, they leave a note and we have found no note. So we can assume it's probably accidental."

Freight Derails

NEW BUFFALO — The trains were rolling again early today after a derailment yesterday morning left seven cars of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train scattered around a busy intersection in the city here.

New Buffalo Police Chief Dale Siebenmark said the derailment occurred at 11:12 a.m. at the Bell Avenue and Clay Street intersection, but that the wreckage was cleared and tracks repaired by 2 a.m. today.

It was inconceivable that no one was injured in the derailment, he said.

He said the box cars, including one loaded with plywood that turned over 40 to 50 feet from the railroad, would have surely slammed into any autos that might have been stopped at the crossing waiting for the train to pass.

There were no cars at the usually busy crossing when the derailment occurred, he said.

Siebenmark estimated the train was traveling from seven to 10 miles per hour through the intersection when the derail-

BENTON HARBOR Second Ward Now Has One Candidate

Tommie Parks, of 1252 Pearl Street, Benton Harbor, will be the only candidate on the ballot for Second Ward commissioner in the Aug. 3 election for recalled Benton Harbor city commission seats, according to City Clerk T.J. (Jack) Carter.

Carter said James McDuffie, who filed nominating petitions for the Second Ward seat, was found not to have the required 38 signatures of registered voters to run for the seat.

Carter said the city clerk's office is continuing to count and verify signatures on nominating petitions of candidates.

Ten candidates filed for the mayor, commissioner-at-large, Second and Third Ward commission seats vacated by the recall of former Mayor Charles Joseph and Commissioners Barbara Hickaby, Winston Mewitt, and Charles Shepherd.

Crime Unit Will Disband highest praise for them but there was just no way to swing it."

Stacey noted the local municipalities which have supplied officers for Meigs Crime have paid the salaries of their own officers, with the county (out of grants and county funds) paying for cars, gasoline, and other equipment. Graun noted that at one time the unit had 17 people, but some departments have withdrawn officers, and of the 13 remaining employees, seven are county employees.

Stacey also noted that after the unit ceases operations, the sheriff's department will have first access to the cars, communications equipment, and other materials.

Two Detectives Testify Sparks Told Of Slaying

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

ALLEGAN — Two detectives from the Allegan county sheriff's department testified in circuit court here yesterday that Roger Sparks admitted to them that he had killed a South Haven girl he is accused of stabbing to death.

The testimony, by detectives James Ross and Marion Waldron, concluded the prosecution's case during the fourth day of Sparks' trial on charges of first degree murder and first degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly rape) in connection with the stabbing death of Deborah K. Knapp, 19, South Haven, last Dec. 23.

The body of Miss Knapp, which was found with 45 stab wounds, according to earlier testimony, was discovered near 130th Avenue in Allegan county's Saugatuck township.

Ross said yesterday that during a Dec. 28 conversation with Sparks, 19, South Haven, at the Allegan county detective unit offices, "He made the statement that he knew he had killed the girl."

Waldron, who was also present for the interview, confirmed the statement. In separate testimony, both detectives told essentially the same story.

Waldron gave the following account of his discussion with Sparks:

Sparks saw the girl in a car parked along Huron Street in South Haven and asked if he could listen to the radio. After a while, the two drove north on Blue Star highway through Glenn, eventually parking near an orchard. Sparks said the girl started to take her clothes off and make other sexual advances. He said he told her that he was a married man and started to get out of the car, when the girl grabbed his coat sleeve, tearing it. After both of them had gotten out of the car, the girl then struck him several times near the road, the officer said Sparks told him.

Sparks, the officer testified, then said he hit the girl with the butt end of the knife and saw blood on her. Sparks said he then became scared, and got back into the car. As he was turning it around, he saw the girl lying on her side as if she was trying to say something.

Sparks then drove the car back to South Haven near a spot along the Black River where he took the vehicle out of gear and rolled it into the water, Waldron said he was told.

The testimony of the two officers, with the exception of a few details, was essentially the same as that given by Det. Sgt. John Karsen of the South Haven state police post.

Karsen said that during a Dec. 30 interview with Sparks, Sparks said the girl told him that if he refused to have sexual relations with her, she would tell police she had been raped.

Sparks, Karsen said, then told him that he pulled out a knife and that the girl slapped him. The detective said Sparks then told him that he remembered stabbing and slashing the girl. While she was crying and screaming, Karsen said, Sparks told him he had oral relations and sexual intercourse with the girl.

The detective also said that Sparks related that he thought the girl was still alive when he left.

Karsen said that during an initial interview Dec. 23 Sparks, stated he and the girl had parked the car and that he (Sparks) had then blacked out. When he came to, all he could remember was driving the car back to South Haven, the detective said.

Karsen said under cross-examination by defense Atty. Harry Beach of Plainfield, that Sparks had told him the girl said her name was Sally, not Debbie or Deborah. Karsen also testified that Sparks said he was upset because he had hit a dog near Blue Star and Hagar Shore drive on the way back from Benton Harbor earlier in the evening.

Beach, setting the stage for an apparent defense strategy of insanity, told the jury in his opening statement that Sparks would testify that Miss Knapp had been sexually aggressive, and following consensual relations, the pair had gotten into an argument.

The attorney also said Sparks' testimony would show that actions taken by Miss Knapp, both physical and verbal, had provoked Sparks.

Beach also said a psychiatrist, who examined Sparks would testify that Sparks had "no conscious ability to form intentions, intent, or to act" against Miss Knapp, and that there was no premeditated intent to kill her. The testimony would show, the lawyer said, that whatever Sparks might have done was "not of his own volition."

Judge George R. Carstiglia dismissed the jury at 2:30 p.m. until 8 a.m. next Monday. Following a private 90-minute conference with Beach and Prosecutor Fred Hunter, the judge said he would allow the prosecution to use two prior criminal convictions against Sparks to challenge any testimony he might give.

The convictions, both in Van Buren County, were for larceny in a building on July 28, 1975 and aggravated assault on June 16, 1975.

The judge, however, reserved until Monday a ruling on whether Hunter may use the aggravated assault conviction to try and establish a pattern of assaultive behavior by Sparks.

I-94 Truck Crash Hurts One Driver

NEW BUFFALO — A Deerfield, Ohio, truck driver was hospitalized yesterday when the tractor-trailer rig he was driving crashed into another semi on I-94 south of here.

Listed in good condition this morning at Memorial Hospital, Michigan City, was Danny Brahm, 28, of Deerfield.

State police from the New Buffalo post said Brahm was injured when a 40,000-pound roll of steel tore loose from the trailer and crashed into the cab of his truck after the truck had crashed into the rear of another semi.

Troopers said trucks driven by Brahm and Eugene Kauschnot, 37, of Cottage Grove, 9inn., were both headed east on the interstate when the crash occurred shortly after 6 a.m. The other driver was not injured in the crash about a mile north of the Michigan state line.

Brahm, who was cited by police for careless driving, told troopers he fell asleep at the wheel of the rig.

Police said a crane was hauled to the crash site to remove the heavy roll of steel from the side of the roadway.

BAG DECISION DELAYED

WASHINGTON (AP) — A decision on whether new cars should be equipped with air bags or similar devices to protect passengers who fail to buckle their seat belts has been delayed until the end of the year.

MARION TONEY

HARTFORD — Thirteen candidates, including three incumbents, seek four seats on the Hartford school board in Monday's annual school election here. No millage issues will appear on the ballot.

Seven candidates, including one incumbent, will be seeking two, four-year seats up for election. The incumbent seeking another term is Bill Burnette, school board president. Challengers include Mrs. Helen Conklin, James Keech, Barry Nilson, John Rose, Scott Smith and Thomas Smith.

Incumbent Stephen Shafer is seeking election to the remaining two years of a vacancy he was appointed to last month. He is being challenged by Frederick Ward and Mrs. Jeanette Weber.

Incumbent John Lesch is seeking election to the remaining one year of the term he was appointed to in March. He is being challenged by Mrs. Joyce Empson and Marion Toney.

Following are brief biographical sketches of the seven candidates seeking the two, four-year seats:

Burnette, 51, route 2, 84th avenue, Hartford, seeks his fifth term on the board. He has been board president the past eight years. A grape grower and owner of a pulp wood and logging operation, Burnette is also president of the Van Buren Intermediate school board and chairman of the Van Buren county road commission. He and his wife, Edna, have four children.

Mrs. Conklin, 62, route 2, box 124, Lawrence, retired, this month as a teacher at Woodside elementary school, Hartford. She taught a total of 30 years, including 23 in the Hartford system. She and her husband, Lawrence, have two children.

Keech, 43, route 2, Decatur, (Keeler township), teaches government at Watervliet high school. He was elected in 1964 as Hartford's first and last city judge, serving until 1968. In 1969, he was defeated in an attempt for a Hartford school board seat. He and his wife, Ruth, have four children.

Nilson, 30, route 1, CR-372, Hartford, owns Nilson's Sales and Service, Red Arrow highway, Watervliet, selling motorcycles, accessories and repairing small engines. Nilson recently completed his student teaching at Hartford this semester, but is not an employee of the district at this time. He has been a substitute teacher for the past seven years at Watervliet and Benton Harbor. He and his wife, Karen, have two children.

Rose, 48, 108 Church street, Hartford, is employed as a pharmacist at Watervliet Community hospital. He ran an unsuccessful write-in campaign for the school board in last year's election. He and his wife, Peggy, have four children.

Scott Smith, 20, 114 Birchwood Trails, Hartford, is central territory sales manager for Miller-Thermometer company, Hartford. A recent graduate of Hartford high school and Lake Michigan college, this is his first attempt at public office. He is single.

Thomas Smith, 40, 66th street, Hartford, is owner of Tom Smith Tractor Parts, Red Arrow highway, Hartford. Smith serves on the advisory board to the Van Buren Skills center for agricultural power equipment. He and his wife, Shirley, have two children. Thomas Smith is not related to candidate Scott Smith.

Candidates seeking election to the two-year term include:

Shafer, 38, route 1, 52nd avenue, Hartford, is a fruit grower and owner of Shafer Orchards Inc. He seeks election to the remaining two years of the seat he was appointed to

New Buffalo Has 13 Candidates, 2 Levies

NEW BUFFALO — Eleven candidates will seek two, four-year seats and two candidates will seek one, one-year seat on the New Buffalo school board in the annual school election here Monday.

Two millage propositions will also appear on the ballot. The first seeks renewal for three years of 14.624 mills which expired with the 1975 tax collection. The second, is a 1.988 mill property tax levy for one year to be used for maintenance and repair of the high school building and grounds.

Glenn Will Vote On High School

GLENN — Glenn school residents (Ganges District No. 4) will meet Monday, June 14, at 8 p.m. at the school to vote on which secondary school system Glenn students will attend after graduation and to elect a new treasurer.

Residents will be asked to decide whether to send Glenn students after graduation from the sixth grade to Saginaw, where they presently attend, South Haven or Fenwick.

The two-year term of Herman Ballou, treasurer, also expires. He has not indicated whether he will seek re-election. Names can be placed in nomination at the meeting.

Four-Day Weekend

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Detroit legislator wants to make the July 4 holiday a four-day weekend so people can reflect on the country's failures and triumphs. "My purpose is not simply to create a four-day weekend and extra time off work," Rep. Jackie Vaughn, D-Detroit, said Thursday. Vaughn has introduced a bill that would extend the state's Independence Day observance from Friday, July 2, through Monday, July 5. Vaughn said the bill, in the House Committee on Corporations and Finance, is similar to one being considered by Congress. The long weekend, Vaughn said, would give Michigan citizens "an opportunity to reflect upon both the accomplishments and failures of the past, and to reaffirm and recommit themselves to achieving new goals and eliminating the inequities of our society."

Wayne Tuition Rising

DETROIT (AP) — Voting the sixth increase in seven years, the board of governors at financially troubled Wayne State University approved a tuition rate hike Wednesday of up to 10 per cent. The increase means freshmen and sophomores will pay $809 a year to attend Wayne, up $73 from the current rate of $854. Tuition for juniors, seniors and graduate law and medical school students also will rise. WSU President George Gullen said the increase was necessary because the legislature failed to appropriate enough money to operate the school. Wayne was forced to lay off 310 employees last year.

sparked public demonstrations in his behalf at the time. A resident of New Buffalo for the past three years, Phillips is currently teaching social studies in Hazelcrest, Ill. He and his wife, Josephine, have four children.

Mrs. Schroder, 50, 917 West Detroit street, New Buffalo, is seeking her third, four-year term. She is presently board treasurer and the only woman on the board. Active in area educational committees, she is a widow employed by the Michigan Tourist Information bureau on I-94 at New Buffalo. She has two sons.

Miss O'Dell, 45, of 18410 US-12, Forrest Beach YMCA camp, New Buffalo, has resided here for the past six years coming from Flint. She is director of the YMCA camp. She seeks her first public office.

Oselka, 34, route 1, Kruger road, Union Pier, operates Smug Harbor Marina with his twin brother, Holland. A lifelong resident of the area, he and his wife, Hollis, have three children. It is his first attempt

Barry May Quit For TV Job

Jazz Eyeing Malone

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Moses Malone and Rick Barry may switch, but Bill Fitch has elected to fight.

With the last dribble, give-and-go and two-handed stuff of the 1975-76 pro cage season completed, the New York Knicks engaged a fast-break on the signing front, the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce went into a full-court pressing defense concerning their Braves and the National Basketball Association went to their big man — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar — to lead the All-Star team.

These were just some of the developments Thursday, four days after the Boston Celtics claimed their 13th NBA championship.

The NBA New Orleans Jazz

are talking to Malone, a 6-foot-10 center who signed with the Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association straight out of high school. Malone, now property of the ABA's Spirit of St. Louis, could become a free agent if a proposed merger of the two leagues is approved.

"We talked about what would happen in case of a merger, if there is no merger, if the ABA folds, if it doesn't fold, all the options we had," the Jazz' attorney, Sheldon Beychok, said of his discussions with Lee Fentress, Malone's agent.

"He wants a lot for Malone," Beychok said. "He's asking big figures, but we're going to do what we can to get him."

Beychok said the NBA's Board of Governors, who meet next week in Hyannis, Mass., will decide whether to accept four ABA teams into the league and all the ramifications involved in that expansion.

Meanwhile, the Knicks had no such problem with a former ABA player. They signed Luther "Ticky" Burden, their second round draft choice a year ago. Burden played last season for the now-defunct Virginia Squires, leading that ABA team in scoring with a 19.9 average.

Rick Barry, who has starred in both leagues, reportedly may quit the game to become a television sports announcer.

"Should CBS pay Rick Barry enough money — and there's no question that CBS can pay him enough — Barry will leave the Golden State Warriors and join CBS as a sports commentator this year," CBS sports announcer Brent Musburger told the Montana Broadcasters Association's annual convention Thursday.

"Golden State now pays Barry $250,000. We would have to come up with something close to that in order for him to sign. If we can, Barry will jump in a minute," Musburger said.

Bill Fitch, who has coached the NBA Cleveland Cavaliers from their inception six years ago to a berth in the playoffs this past season, says he wants out of his $75,000-a-year job.

Fitch, who was blasted publicly by Cavaliers President Nick Mileti while Cleveland was in the playoffs, has retained two attorneys to negotiate with Mileti on his release.

On May 10, Mileti called Fitch an ordinary coach and said Fitch asked to be released from his contract to take a similar job with the Los Angeles Lakers.

"First of all, I never talked to L.A. or any club," Fitch said Thursday. "I told him I would love to coach in Los Angeles. I also said I would like to coach in New York, but I didn't hear from anyone."

Ray Scott, former Detroit Pistons coach, said he has been contacted by the Chicago Bulls, but he denied he was offered the job. Scott is now head coach at Eastern Michigan while the Bulls are leaderless.

In Buffalo, the Erie Chamber of Commerce said they haven't thrown in the towel in their attempt to keep the Braves in Buffalo. Braves' owner Paul Snyder, who has been talking to investors from Hollywood, Fla., who are interested in buying the NBA franchise, said the team will remain in Buffalo if 5,000 season tickets are sold by Saturday.

The Braves said that they had sold 2,344 season tickets as of Wednesday.

The NBA Washington Bulletin signed one of their two first-round draft choices Thursday — 6-1 Larry Wright of Grambling, Wright, who renounced his college eligibility in order to be available for the draft, averaged 23.5 points a game in his three years at Grambling.

Abdul-Jabbar, the 7-1 center of the Los Angeles Lakers, was named to the NBA's All-Star team for the sixth time after winning his first league rebounding title. Others named to the first team were forwards George McGinnis of the Philadelphia 76ers and Rick Barry, and guards Nate Archibald of the Kansas City Kings and Pete Maravich of the New Orleans Jazz.

Selected to the second team were forwards Elvin Hayes of Washington and John Havlicek of Boston; center Dave Cowens of Boston and guards Phil Smith of Gold State and Randy Smith of Buffalo.

And in Philadelphia, a municipal court judge ruled that 76er Joe Bryant's rights had been violated by an illegal police search, thus acquitting the basketball player of drug possession and resisting arrest charges.

"You are an idol among Philadelphia youngsters," Judge Simmons told Bryant. "I would hope you continue to earn that idolatry."

Cubs Break Losing Streak

Reds 'Sting' Pittsburgh

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Reds are putting some ground between themselves and the Los Angeles Dodgers — but still can't shake a solution of sugar and water, then scooped the bees up by the flimsy and poured them into a big box.

While the Pirate management was swatting bees, the Reds were swatting baseballs. George Foster, particularly, was hot, driving in his 51st and 52nd runs of the year to back Gullett's tough pitching. The victory boosted Cincinnati's lead over Los Angeles to four games in the National League West.

In the other National League games, the Chicago Cubs beat the Atlanta Braves 7-6; the Montreal Expos outscored the San Francisco Giants 6-5; the New York Mets blanked the San Diego Padres 6-0; and the Philadelphia Phillies trounced the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-4 in 12 innings.

Two-run homers by Jose Cardenal and Rick Monday helped the Chicago Cubs snap a six-game losing streak Thursday with a 7-6 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

The Braves managed three home runs as 20 mile-per-hour winds blew out but saw their six-game winning streak come to an end.

Cardenal also contributed a double and a triple as Steve Renko, with late-inning help from Oscar Zamora, picked up his second victory since joining the club. Dick Ruthven, 6-6, took the loss.

Rowland Office opened the game with a double to extend his hitting string to 15 games, went to third on an infield out and scored on Jim Wynn's sacrifice fly.

Cardenal's two-run homer put the Cubs ahead in the third but consecutive homers by Ken Henderson and Earl Williams in the fourth regained the lead for Atlanta.

The Braves scored an unearned run in the top of the fifth before the Cubs came back with five in the bottom of the fifth, in a rally launched by Monday's two-run homer.

Cardenal's first homer of the year, with two out in the sixth after Williams had singled, cut the Cub lead to one run.

Andre Thornton and Barry Foote each clouted two-run homers, the latter inside the park, carrying Montreal over San Francisco. Singles by Gary Matthews and Gary Thomeason and Chris Speier's sacrifice fly gave the Giants a 1-0 lead off winner Don Carrithers, 2-1, in the second before Montreal took the lead for good in the fourth.

Left-hander John Malack buried his third shutout of the season with a five-hitter to spark New York over San Diego. Malack, who improved his record to 7-1 with his eighth complete game of the season, struck out eight and walked five while halting a five-game San Diego winning streak, longest in the club's history.

Dick Allen slugged his fourth home run leading off the 12th inning and Bob Boone tripled for two more runs as Philadelphia scored four times to break a tie and defeat Los Angeles. Tug McGraw, who came into the game in the 10th inning and needed relief help from Ron Schuler in the 12th, earned his fourth victory in seven decisions as the Phillies won three out of four games from the Dodgers.

Details of the contract were not announced but the Hawks had said earlier they would be willing to pay $3 million on a five-year term.

Yet to be determined is what compensation the Hawks will give Boston in return for Orr. Al Eagleson, Orr's lawyer, said such compensation will be considered only after Orr makes a final decision on whether he will play.

Orr, who broke into the NHL with Boston in 1966-67, appeared in only 10 games last season because of his ailing knee.

Bradford, Spencer Key White Sox Win

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Buddy Bradford knocked in four runs with a home run and an infield out and Jim Spencer slammed a two-run homer and an RBI single, powering the surging Chicago White Sox to a 12-5 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Thursday.

Rookie Francisco Barrios, 11, celebrated his 23rd birthday by checking the Brewers on seven hits in his first major league start as the Sox won their 18th game of their last 24.

The White Sox jumped to a 2-0 first-inning lead on two-out singles by Lamar Johnson and Jorge Orta and a two-run double by Brian Downing.

Chet Lemon tripled in the Sox'

third and scored on Spencer's single off first baseman George Scott's glove. Downing singled with two out and Bradford followed with his second homer of the year, chasing loser Jerry Augustine, 1-2, and boosting the lead to 6-0.

Jim Bosario's solo homer in the Brewer third broke a string of 11 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings for Barrios. However, the Sox made it 9-1 with three first-inning runs off Pete Broberg on a single by Lemon, Spencer's fourth homer, a walk, an error and Bradford's RBI infield grounder.

Three years ago, Paul Splittorff would not have been too happy about facing Jim Palmer.

But now the bespectacled left-hander and the Kansas City Royals are ready for anyone.

"It doesn't make any difference any more with this club," Splittorff said Thursday night after hurling a four-hit, 7-0 victory over Palmer and the Baltimore Orioles. "We can beat anyone."

"Three years ago, we'd go out there against a team's top pitcher and we're beat. We weren't capable of beating them unless they had an off night. But not now."

Splittorff, aided by a pair of two-run homers from Amos Otis and John Mayberry, propelled Kansas City to its eighth victory in 10 games, while Baltimore dropped its sixth straight. It was the first shutout of the season for Splittorff, 5-6.

Kansas City held a slim 3-0 lead against Palmer, 6-7, until Otis and Mayberry struck in the seventh. Otis' 11th homer of the year gave him the American League lead, while Mayberry hammered his sixth of the season and third in two games. Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver denounced the Orioles' misfortune, but found no fault with Palmer, the 1973 Cy Young award winner.

"They should have had just one run going into the seventh," said Weaver. "Then he (Palmer) just gave Otis a fast ball and he hit it. But I'll take his pitching against this club in this park any time."

In the other American League games, the California Angels blanked the New York Yankees 2-0 and the Oakland A's stopped the Boston Red Sox 6-5.

Frank Tanana limited New York to six hits and struck out 10 as California beat the Yankees. The Yankees' Rudy May, 4-3, also allowed six hits but three of them came in the third inning when the Angels scored both their runs.

Don Baylor, Sal Bando, Phil Garner and Tim Lincecum contributed doubles in a six-run eighth inning as Oakland rallied to beat Boston. A two-out throwing error by rookie third baseman Steve Dillard enabled the A's to tie the score in the eighth. Then they unloaded on Tom Murphy, the third of four Boston pitchers.

Tigers Acquire Pedro Garcia

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have traded second baseman with the Milwaukee Brewers and summoned relief pitcher Dave Lemaczky from Evansville of the American Association.

In moves Thursday, the Tigers sent veteran Gary Sutherland to Milwaukee while Pedro Garcia came to the Tigers. Both men will report for games tonight.

The 6-foot-10, 175-pound Garcia was runnerup to Al Bumbry in balloting for the rookie of the year in 1973, when he batted .245 and tied for the league lead with 32 doubles. He hit 15 home runs his rookie year and 12 in 1974.

Garcia, 26, had been with the Brewers four seasons. This year he has hit .217 in 41 games with one home run.

Garcia reportedly had argued with former Milwaukee manager Del Crandall last season and that dispute was said to be one reason Crandall was fired.

"Evidently he got into a rut and was having problems with management," Tiger General Manager Jim Campbell said of Garcia.

"Two years ago, you couldn't have touched Garcia for anything," Campbell said. "He's a good ball player. And we feel right now he's a better ball player than the guy we traded away. All he needs is a change."

Sutherland, 31, had been with the Tigers since December 1973, when he came from the Houston Astros with Jim Ray in exchange for Fred Scherman. He hit .205 in 42 games to date this season.

The Tigers on Thursday recalled right-hander Lemaczky, 25, from Evansville. He was with the Tigers all last season and had a 5-2 record at Evansville to date. He will fill the roster space left vacant by the sale of Joe Coleman to the Chicago Cubs earlier this week.

The 6-foot-4, 230-pounder compiled a 4-8 big league record and a 4-36 earned run average. He will go to the bullpen as a long reliever.

Tiger Mark Fidrych will go against pitcher Nolan Ryan tonight when the Tigers open a three-game series against the California Angels.

Area Clubs Face Tests

Baseball, Softball Regionals Saturday

Two area baseball teams and two area softball squads will set their sights on the second jewel in the triple crown when they compete in regional action Saturday.

Local hopes will ride with Buchanan and Lawrence in baseball and the River Valley and Eau Claire girls in softball.

The Bucks, under first-year coach Don Hecklinski, ended five years of frustration by winning their own district last Saturday. But things will not get any easier this week.

Buchanan plays in the Coldwater Regional, which also hosts defending Class C state champion Bronson.

"We've got to play perfect baseball in all aspects of the game," Hecklinski said. "I don't think any one team is going to dominate any game in this regional. I believe it's going to be nip-and-tuck all the way."

Bronson, 20-4 this year and ranked No. 3 in the latest coach's poll, faces Kalamazoo Hackett (12-6) in Saturday's first game at 10 a.m. Buchanan (18-8) battles sixth-ranked Blissfield (20-3) in the second game at 12:30 p.m. with the two winners playing for the regional title at 3 p.m.

As usual, Buchanan's hopes will ride on the arms of the Vanderbush brothers. Walt, a strong All-State candidate, boasts an impressive 11-2 record and has struck out an incredible 171 batters in 83-2/3 innings. The senior righthander also has thrown three no-hitters, five shutouts and has a splendid 0.42 earned run average.

The Tigers, paced by senior Dave Congdon, face Morenci at 12:30 p.m.

Kevin Vanderbush has a 5-2 record and a 0.68 ERA and also leads the team in hitting with a .355 mark.

Blissfield, just 15 miles from Toledo, Ohio, has tradition going in its favor. The Royals won the Class C crown in 1973 and advanced to the final four last year.

All three Blissfield losses this year have been by one run. Shortstop Dave Pagle, a junior, leads up the offensive attack (.350 and 7 home runs).

Seniors Ron Vince (10-0, 1.02 ERA) and Ray Soff (9-3) hold up the pitching staff.

Bronson has just three starters back from last year's team, but one of them is senior southpaw Duane Ferry, who sports a perfect 12-0 record and has never been beaten in high school.

Bronson played primarily a Class A and B schedule and was near-perfect in the district, shutting out two opponents, making no errors and walking just one batter in the two games.

Junior second baseman Joe Rosenhagen has been the big gun for Kalamazoo Hackett. The 5-8, 160-pounder is hitting .457 and he belted three home runs in three district games.

Lawrence is making its fourth appearance in regional play, but the Tigers are still looking for their first regional win. And this year it won't be easy. Among the other entries in the Class D regional at North Adams is Climax-Scott (19-2), which was ranked No. 1 in the final coach's poll.

Lawrence's first-game opponent, Morenci, is making its second straight trip to the regional. Randy Ford (9-1, 0.37 ERA), a senior lefty, and outfielder Scott Mohr (.432) head up the Morenci hopes.

The Tigers, paced by senior Dave Congdon, face Morenci at 12:30 p.m.

Climax-Scott boasts a strong pitching staff in John Halasz (10-1, 1.33) and Don Ballock (7-1, 2.30) and crisp field second baseman David Twiss (.333). Litchfield brings in pitcher Ron Coe (9-3) and catcher Mark Case (.343) to highlight its attack.

River Valley's girls will find out early about its title claims. The Mustangs face defending Class B state runner-up Tecumseh (21-2) at 10 a.m. Saturday at Comstock.

The Mustangs bring the best record (20-1) into the regional and must pitcher Kathleen Smith (13-1) and Linda Mitchell (.500). But Tecumseh returns six of nine starters from last year's team. Defense has been Tecumseh's key this year, but Julie Anderson (.508) and Jane Faulkner (.470) help offensively.

Gull Lake (13-2) faces Jackson Lamen Christi (10-5) in the other semi-final game and runs a heavy favorite. Gull Lake boasts six players hitting better than .400 including rightfielder Sue Pifer (.675).

Much of Eau Claire's hopes in the Class C regional at Watervliet ride with centerfielder Cindy Kremers. Kremers is hitting .540 and was brilliant defensively in the district. Tammy Vludic (.528) helps out offensively.

The Beavers face Scottville Mason County Central in a 10 a.m. game. Mason County (8-9) is headed by Glenda Grano and easily won its district, beating Muskegon Western Michigan Christian 22-6 and Howard City Tri-County 10-7.

ON HIS TOES: Raul Ramirez of Mexico rises up on his toes to return a ball at Roland Garres Stadium in Paris Thursday. Ramirez advanced to the semifinals of the French Open Tennis tourney by beating Balazs Taroczy of Hungary. (AP Wirephoto)

St. Joe Shares League Award

St. Joseph and Battle Creek Lakeview are sharing the Big Seven Conference's men's all-sports trophy for the 1975-76 school year.

St. Joe and Lakeview finished with 43.0 points overall. Kalamazoo Loy Norris had 42.5, Portage Northern 34.0, Holland 32.5, Niles 31.0 and Portage Central 21.0.

Big Seven girls all-sports honors went to Portage Northern with 38.0 points. Kalamazoo Loy Norris had 28.5, Holland 26.0, St. Joseph 23.5, Portage Central 22.0 and Niles 15.0.

St. Joe and Lakeview boys built their winning margins in fall and winter sports....the Bears were basketball champs and football co-champs.

Lakeview had 32.0 points and St. Joe 31.5 going into the spring sports. Neither got a championship in the spring, with top finishes being a second in baseball by Lakeview and a third in track by St. Joseph.

Star Team For Area Pair

St. Joseph's Terri Collis and Niles' Laurel Gorton have been named to the all-Big Seven softball team.

Other picks include Holly Hockstern of conference champion Portage Northern (11-4 record) and Deb Zelwyn, Linda Ellsworth, Roxanne Rublinski and Diane Wester of runner-up Portage Central (8-4).

Rounding out the squad are Kalamazoo Loy Norris' Barb Burk, Chris Johnson and Sallie Hanschman; Holland's Patti Floods and Mary Long, and Battle Creek Lakeview's Carla Sinclair.

Following Northern and Central in the standings were Loy Norris at 7-5, Lakeview 6-6 and Holland, Niles and St. Joseph, all at 4-8.

Rich Plangger Tourney Boasts Strong Field

A strong field of ten softball teams will compete this weekend in the Rich Plangger Invitational at Plangger's Park in Benton township.

The tourney will start Friday at 7:15 p.m. when Plangger's takes on Scottville and will conclude Sunday at 4:30 p.m. with the championship contest. There will be a total of 18 games with a possible 18th game Sunday at 6 p.m.

Other Friday night games have Kankakee (Ill.) playing Mishawaka (Ind.) at 8:45 and Kokomo (Ind.) meeting Cherry Valley (Ill.) at 10:15. Lafayette (Ind.) and Fort Wayne (Ind.)

will collide Saturday at 9 a.m. Columbus (Ohio) and Madison (Wis.) drew ties. Sunday's action will also start at 9 a.m. in the double-elimination event.

Rick Plangger will get the start Friday against Scottville. He earlier pitched a no-hitter against Scottville in the Scottville tournament. Plangger's won the Scottville title, defeating Scottville 2-1 in the championship game.

There will be no admission fee for the tournament.

BH's Bell All-LMAC

Benton Harbor's Larry Bell has been named to the Lake Michigan Athletic Conference all-league baseball team.

Bell, a second baseman, hit over .300 for the Tigers this spring. The senior was the Tigers' lone pick.

Nyland Stars

Roger Nyland hurled a five-hitter and fanned seven as Christian Reformed pounded St. Paul's 12-1 Thursday night in a St. Joseph Church league softball contest. Clete Brummett socked four hits and Jerry Dykstra three, including a homer, for the winners. P. Smith Jr. had a homer for St. Paul's.

Ali Whips Wrestlers

Successful Tuneup For Tokyo

CHICAGO (AP) — World heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali fought a professional wrestler Thursday and wound up covered with blood (the grappler's).

In fact, he disposed of two giant-and-growlers. The first, Kenny Jay, 36, a 225-pounder from Cleveland, was clipped by a right in the second round of a three-round show at the International Amphitheater and apparently knocked senseless. Dick The Bruiser, who was corner man for the wrestlers, and two policemen helped Jay out of the ring.

However, in the opening seconds of the first round, Jay jammed Ali hard against the ropes after wrapping his arms around the champ's midsection.

Ali had a surprised expression. Then he left-jabbed Jay at will and landed body blows until the wrestler's puffy torso was bloated in red.

But the next wrestler was curly-haired, mustachioed Buddy Wolf, 28, of St. Cloud, Minn., a 284-pounder. He seemed determined for this Ali tuneup for his July 26 date in Tokyo with Antonio Inoki, the 6-foot-4, 250-pound Japanese wrestling titlist. Ali figures to haul away $6 million for the Tokyo tangle, with the winner being crowned "World Martial Arts Champion."

Wolf even made referee Verne Gagne work hard as he tore after Ali, shedding left jabs as if he were a catcher's mask, picking Ali up like a bag of potatoes and smashing him to the canvas, and twice dropping the champion over his knee in what is known as the "backbreaker."

Ali displayed some wrestling maneuvers of his own, scissoring Wolf around the neck with his legs, flipping him over his head and whomping him with his 16-ounce gloves.

Finally, in the third round Ali unleashed rights and lefts to Wolf's head — all according to the rules of the match. He couldn't knock him down but he opened a gash on the wrestler's forehead. Soon Wolf was covered with blood, and so were Gagne and Ali.

But Gagne wouldn't stop the action and Wolf was allowed to bleed like a puled ox until the bell while nearly 1,000 fans, who were admitted free, jumped to their feet, held clenched fists in the air and shouted: "Ali! Ali!"

Then all hell broke loose for the benefit of the television cameras capturing the show for Saturday's ABC Wide World of Sports.

Plangger's

Splits Pair

Plangger's tuned up for tonight's opening round of the Rich Plangger softball tourney by splitting a pair of non-league games with the Kalamazoo Toppers, winning the first 4-3 and dropping the second 7-2 at Plangger's Park Thursday night.

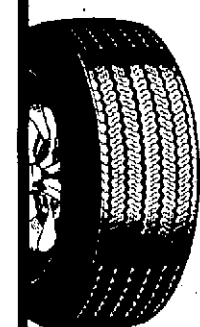

Rick Plangger gave up five hits and struck out eight to get the win in the initial game. He also helped out in the hitting department, swigging a two-run homer in the third inning. Doug Wyner drove in one run with a sacrifice fly and Nick Shushman stroked a run-scoring single in the fifth.

Shushman and Lee Chabot both had two hits for Plangger's, now 26-12 on the season.

Rick Davis tied up the game for the locals in the second game with a two-run single in the first inning but Kalamazoo put the game away with a single tally in the third and fourth in the fifth inning.

EMU Strong Contender In College World Series

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The old baseball saw is that good pitching stops good hitting.

If that holds true in the College World Series, mark down Eastern Michigan as a strong contender.

"Pitching and defense, that's what we try to stress," said Coach Ron Oestrike of Eastern. "We feel if those two parts of our game are strong, we'll be okay in the Series."

Top-rated Arizona State, 62-8, is the favorite in the eight-team, double-elimination tournament that opens today with a twilight doubleheader.

Auburn, 37-13, meets Clemson, 35-13, and Maine, 27-7, goes against Eastern Michigan, 41-14, in the twilight, while Arizona State is matched against arch-rival Arizona, 51-18, and Washington State, 42-13, tests Oklahoma, 61-17, Saturday night.

ing on whether an unbeaten captures the title.

"There obviously are some strong teams no matter where you put them in the brackets, but I've got to be happy we're not going against the Arizona teams and Oklahoma right away," said Oestrike.

After Arizona State, which is seeking its fourth title, the contenders appears to be Arizona, Oklahoma and Eastern Michigan.

Eastern Michigan qualified for a second straight year by ousting Big Ten Conference titlist Michigan, The Hurons' long suit appears to be pitching. Sophomore Bob Welch, 10-2 with a 1.60 earned run average, and junior Bob Owchinko, whose 12-3 and 1.94 figures earned him a first-round selection in the free agent draft, are the mound mainstays.

But Oestrike thinks "our third and fourth pitchers are very strong too and that's what you need here."

Glen Gullivers, a speedy shortstop who is hitting .413, leads the batting attack that also includes two others over .350.

If Eastern is the sleeper in the field, Washington State, Maine, Clemson and Auburn fall into the category of unknowns.

None have been to the series — which has been dominated by western teams the last nine years — in the last 10 years and on paper don't appear to have the talent to match Arizona State, Arizona and Oklahoma.

Arizona State has impressive credentials.

The Sun Devils own a 19-game winning streak, a team batting average of .348, have eight players with averages of .346 or better and excellent pitching led by junior leftlander Floyd Banister, who was the No. 1 choice in the summer free agent draft this week.

Gary Groh In Contention At 69 Rudolph Leads Kemper

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Lee Trevino was back in his motel considering whether he'll be able to play in the U.S. Open and Mason Rudolph was stranded in the clubhouse, anxiously wondering if his 69 would be wiped out, when a violent thunderstorm swept the Quail Hollow Country Club course late Thursday afternoon.

Rudolph's question was answered. His six-under-par score stands, even though the round was postponed with almost half the field of 153 competitors in the $250,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament still to complete first-round play.

Trevino's question is unanswered. He doesn't yet know if he'll play in next week's national championship, a title he has won twice and for which he ranked as a leading contender this year.

"I don't know if I'll be able to play or not," Trevino said of the U.S. Open after a painful pinched nerve in his back forced him to withdraw before the start of this weather-plagued event.

"I'm gonna stay in Charlotte, rest, practice maybe if my back feels up to it. I'll beat some balls Sunday and then, depending on how my back feels, I'll make a decision on whether to play in the Open."

The 42-year-old Rudolph, an easy-going, low-key, softly-drawling native of Tennessee, one-putted 10 times — including the last six holes he played — to pace the 78 men who completed play before the rain, wind and lightning struck the course.

Play was suspended for three hours before officials decided to postpone for the day and resume in the morning. Had they decided to cancel, all scores would have been wiped out. Since more than half the field was in and all but a handful of late starters had completed at least nine holes, they opted for a postponement. All completed scores stand. All players stranded by the storm marked their positions and were scheduled to resume today.

Of those stranded on the course, Jim Dent and Bob Lunn were the leaders at three under par — three back of Rudolph — after nine holes. Cesar Sanudo and Larry Nelson were two under and playing their back nines. Defending titleholder and Masters champion Ray Floyd was even par after 10 holes.

J.C. Snead was alone in second among the early finishers with a 67.

Tom Purtzer, the rookie who led through three rounds of last week's Bicentennial Classic, and Rex Caldwell completed play in 68 strokes, two back. At 49 were Forrest Fozzler, Mark Haynes and former Bridgman star Gary Groh.

Arnold Palmer bogeyed his first four holes and had to rally for a 74. Gary Player of South Africa also was at two over par.

Julius Boros shot a 71 and also wondered if it would be rained out. His effort included a hole in one on the 13th, worth $5,000 from a local business concern. It stands.

Bagel Twins Make Semis Of French Tennis Open

PARIS (AP) — In some cities they couldn't get policemen's jobs. They could never make it in the Queen's Own Regiment, and a man once dreamed up kiddy basketball — the hoop was at eight feet — for people their size.

Without any malice, and with real affection, they've been called the bagel twins — little guys, one 5-foot-6, the other 5-foot-7, one Jewish, the other of Lebanese Christian descent, tough, ornery, impossible to beat without guts and now, winning for the first time in a big way.

Harold Solomon and Eddie Dibbs are through to the semifinals of the French Open tennis Championships and it is a triumph for everyone who is small, hard-working and persistent.

Solomon goes into a match at 140 pounds and can come out weighing as little as 136. Dibbs, who weighs perhaps 10 pounds more, gives just about as much of himself and they both think they can win against people like Arthur Ashe and Bjorn Borg.

If either Dibbs or Solomon makes the final he will be the first American to do so since Tony Trabert won here in 1955.

Solomon moved into Saturday's semis as the clock struck 9:15 p.m. Thursday, beating Guillermo Vilas of Argentina 61, 6-6, 7-6, 6-1. He next plays Paul Ramirez of Mexico.

Dibbs, who won his quarter-final match Wednesday, goes up against Adriano Panatta, the Italian champion, who ended Borg's attempt to win three straight Paris titles.

Both little men love the red clay at Roland Garros Stadium that cuts down the big players' muscle advantage and their serve and volley power.

Both little men hit two-fisted backhands because they didn't feel they had enough strength to do it the orthodox way when they were kids, and both spent most of their childhood on public courts in Florida.

"It was enough, coupled with their fondness for the Jewish breakfast staple, for them to be nicknamed bagel twins."

"It is OK with me," said Dibbs. "I see no offense in it," Solomon agreed.

The nickname has its origin in a Miami Beach hustler's expression that calls a shutout or a love defeat a bagel. To get beaten at love twice in Solomon-Dibbs talk is to get double-bagelled.

Solomon took a bagel-set loss against Vilas, but he said later it was just a lucky bit of concession in a match where he hit harder than he ever had before. Dibbs has always been regarded as having the toughest strokes in comparison with Solomon's moonball style, but the run-and-getter turned into a banger to do in Vilas as night was falling and a crump began lightening his leg.

Solomon has beaten Ramirez the last two times they played. But Dibbs may have a tougher time with Panatta, a player of real elegance who is probably the most complete athlete on the circuit.

ON WAY TO NEW HOME: Hapless USS Roncador, a World War II submarine that found only a restless haven at a marina in Redondo Beach, Calif., passes through the breakwater Thursday evening for a 30-mile trip towed by tugs, up the coast to Los Angeles Harbor. JOHN P. ROCHE

A Word Edgewise

Let us look at the premise that racially imbalanced education is per se bad. On its face this is preposterous — otherwise we would have to "bus" blacks in innumerable jets to communities in the North and West to make education meaningful and constitutional.

What evidence there is, and it is subject to much controversy, suggests that when small numbers of poor minority children attend good schools with upwardly mobile whites, they tend to adopt the aspirations of their peers. (This is equally valid with respect to poor whites.)

In short, mixing with those infused with the work ethic — whether Jewish or Christian, Chinese-American or whatever — can help a poor talented child break loose from the culture of poverty. (Remember that the problem of the poor these days in the U.S. is not that they are exploited; rather, they are left to rot in the margins of productive society.)

However, in writing off the hypothesis that segregated education is in itself bad, we must not overlook the nuts and bolts. The best teachers, for example, do not want to work in schools full of poor kids. Again the class line: an ex-Marine, Vietnam veteran who went to teach in a Washington, D.C. high school told me he preferred Khe Sanh. The poor are traditionally undisciplined, and the elimination of corporal punishment from the teacher's arsenal has — whether you like it or not — contributed to disruption.

I didn't enjoy getting belted around by the football coach who doubled as high school principal, but it certainly influenced my behavior. I threw my last spitball when he marched into math class and simply stuffed me into the wastebasket, where I sat, trapped for the remainder of the class. When Dad heard about it, he didn't call the American Civil Liberties Union, he added a beating of his own just to underline the point.

The schools for the poor, of whatever hue, are traditionally the worst maintained and staffed. Thus in practical terms it would make sense to close down a number of such penal institutions and, if necessary, bus the children to a decent school.

It would make even more sense to replace poor schools with good ones; that is, concentrate on quality education and stop worrying about whether 7 percent of the class is Chinese-American, Eskimo, white or black.

To summarize, I don't see busting as anything but an educational tool; it is an exercise in utility to bus kids from one poor school to another.

Moreover, I would broaden the scope of the issue far beyond the rights of blacks, Hispanic-Americans or Asian-Americans. What is at stake is the right of the poor (80 percent of whom are white) to equal protection of the educational laws. In concrete terms, we stop agitating about the color of students' skins (a structurally trivial matter unless the consequence of de jure segregation) and focus on the funding of public education, notably on decoupling it from local property taxation and the resulting autonomy. If there is a good school at the end of the line, nobody will object to a bus ride.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Two hundred years ago this week, a Virginia farmer named George Mason drew up the model for the Bill of Rights later embodied in the Constitution.

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer
George Mason, a farmer, not a lawyer, may be the most important man in American law — the man most responsible for developing the document that eventually became our Bill of Rights.

There is no easy explanation for this Virginia planter's obsession with human rights; an obsession that led him to insist on a Declaration of Rights in the Virginia constitution. That declaration — stating that "all power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the people" — was adopted by a Virginia convention on June 12, 1776.

Nobody ever mistreated Mason. He was born rich and died even richer. He came from one of America's finest families, albeit one with a history of rebellion. His great-grandfather had helped start Bacon's Rebellion, the first armed challenge to royal authority in America.

Mason enjoyed honor and acclaim in his community, in his state, and at times from a grateful nation. He was not the sort of man who felt that his rights were threatened.

Yet this tideswater gentleman was an emerging nation's greatest civil libertarian. He inspired and fought for the Bill of Rights and all the freedoms that generations of Americans have enjoyed under it.

Mason was born in 1725 on a plantation just a few miles down the Potomac from George Washington's Mount Vernon. His grandfather and great-grandfather had been lawyers trained in London's Middle Temple, and like his father, prosperous tobacco planters.

George's father died in a boating accident when the boy was only 10, but he left a comfortable estate. As principal heir, George worked to prepare himself for the management of a large plantation, and his industry and efficiency kept the plantation prosperous at a time when tobacco culture was declining.

The youth was educated at home but benefited from the tutelage of a cousin who was a legal scholar and possessor of one of the finest libraries in the colonies. He steeped himself in the classics of literature and philosophy and the best legal treatises.

Later, as a landowner and speculator, he continued to study law to protect his interests and became a recognized authority on land law. But he never practiced law. He dedicated himself to management of the plantation, and to his wife and nine children.

Although he was plagued by gout and openly detested public office as an "injust invasion of my personal liberty," he finally agreed to enter public service, as did so many men of Mason's social standing.

He became a justice of the county court, a trustee of the new town of Alexandria and an officer of the militia. He was a member of the Virginia House of Burgesses, the revolutionary Virginia convention, the Virginia Committee of Safety, and the Constitutional Convention.

SJ Flood Insurance Study To Be Presented June 22

Results of a flood insurance study for the City of St. Joseph will be presented Tuesday, June 22, at 7 p.m. in the city commission chambers. City Manager G.W. Hepler announced.

Hepler said the study includes floodplain maps showing areas that could possibly be flooded over the next 100 years, flood elevation profiles and flood insurance rate maps for determining who must purchase flood insurance and the cost.

Representatives of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Michigan Department of Natural Resources will be at the meeting to explain the study and answer questions about the flood insurance program, Hepler said. The public is invited.

The study was funded by HUD and covers areas along the St. Joseph river, Paw Paw river and Morrison channel.

Hepler said final issuance of the study will mark a change in the City of St. Joseph's status in the federal flood insurance program from the "emergency phase" to the "regular phase." This means the amount of flood insurance now available to homeowners and businesses in St. Joseph will be doubled. The additional amounts of insurance will be subject to actuarial risk rates rather than the federal-subsidized rates presently available.

In addition, the City of St. Joseph will be required to adopt and enforce a floodplain ordinance to regulate all new construction and substantial rehabilitation in the flood hazard areas designated in the report.

Patterson Printing Co. of Benton Harbor has added a new Hospital Communications division and appointed Kevin Vance as territorial manager of the division. Michael Wyngarden, Patterson executive director, announced.

The division will specialize in the printing of hospital communications. Vance's territory will cover an area roughly described as Chicago, Grand Rapids, and Detroit.

Vance is a graduate of St. Joseph high school and attended Normandy State college in Bloomington, Minn. He and his wife, Rosemary, live in Baroda.

NEW TWO

Introducing two fun Toyotas that are incredibly functional. The new Corolla Liftback and Corolla Sport Coupe. Both have eye-catching, sporty good looks inside and out. Both are available in sporty-equipped SR-5 and Deluxe models. They round out Toyota's quality line of Corollas.

Functional fun. We designed the Corolla Liftback to be stylishly sporty looking, and yet it's a practical car with two doors plus a wide rear liftback that opens into a spacious cargo area. Its versatility continues with a unique fold down split rear seat. Fold it all the way down and you've made enough room to hold three carts of groceries. Fold half the split rear seat down and you can carry long awkward loads, and there's still a seat left in the back to carry a passenger.

HIGHWAY

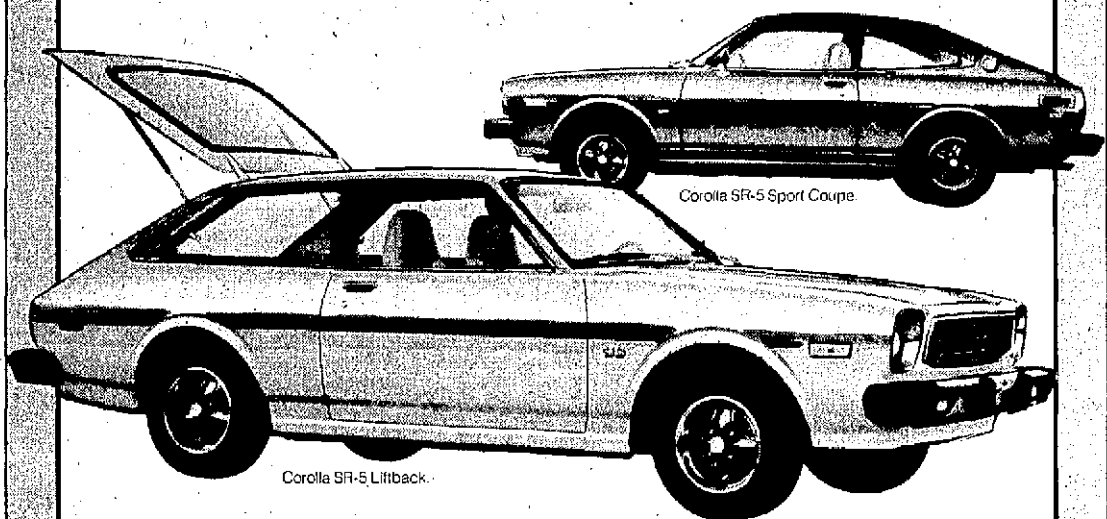

Economical to operate. The new Corolla SR-5 Liftback and Sport Coupe have a standard 5-speed overdrive transmission to give you great gas mileage and performance. 1976 EPA tests with 5-speed overdrive transmission, 39 MPG highway, 24 city. These EPA results are estimates. The actual mileage you get will vary, depending on your driving habits and your car's condition and equipment. An automatic transmission is available on Deluxe models.

No-cost extras. Toyota has always been known to give you a long list of extras at no extra cost. The two new Corollas are no exceptions. Every Corolla is equipped with standard features like: reclining bucket seats, power assisted front disc brakes, MacPherson strut front suspension, transistorized ignition, styled steel wheels, and power boosted 10-ltr ventilation, all included in the list price.

Toyota stands behind Toyota quality. There are nearly 1,000 authorized Toyota dealers across the U.S. comprising a network of service departments staffed with Toyota trained mechanics. Quality. CANKER COMMON ON SWEETS: Canker now attacking tart cherries for the first time is a common problem in certain varieties of sweet cherries. As can be seen, the canker makes holes in leaves and — in bad cases such as the Schmidt sweet cherry tree pictured — tree will lose its leaves and possibly some branches. (Staff photo)

Weather Conditions Stir Tart Disease

This spring's unusual weather conditions have stirred a bacterial canker to attack Southwestern Michigan tart cherry trees for the first time.

But since a short Montmorency tart cherry crop is already expected, the main concern regarding the canker is whether growers will have to deal with it in the future, says Dr. Al Jones, Michigan State University extension plant pathologist.

Mike Thomas, extension horticulturist for Southwestern Michigan, guessed that 80 per cent of the tart cherry orchards — particularly those orchards hit by spring freezes — will show signs of the disease.

The disease is fairly common in Hardy Giant, Schmidt and Windsor sweet cherries, but until this year hadn't bothered Montmorency cherries, Jones said.

Jones is narrowing down exactly which organism is causing the disease. Besides bacterial canker, the disease is called "tatter leaf" or "bacterial leaf spot," Jones said.

In both sweets and sweets the first symptom that the canker is present is yellowing of leaves. Brown spots will appear on the leaves, dry and fall out, making holes in the leaves, said Jones.

The disease can go a step further and cause defoliation, especially in trees carrying a light crop. This could slow development of wood, Jones said, but not very much.

Immature cherries develop brown spots and eventually begin to rot.

The strain of canker is very damaging, but Jones said it probably won't be a problem in future years in tart cherries if weather conditions don't repeat this season's.

He said that the disease is apparently always present on sour cherry leaves. Early freezes and cool, wet weather around bloom time seem to have activated the canker.

Because of the required weather conditions, said Jones, the disease is cyclical. The last time it was a real problem in sweet cherries was 1968.

The disease hasn't appeared in other Michigan cherry-producing areas, where the weather was more normal during the growing season. There is no treatment for the disease, but tests are underway, Jones noted.

TART CHERRY CANKER: Yellow leaf with brown spots, and rot of immature fruit, are signs of a bacterial canker that is attacking Southwestern Michigan tart cherry trees for the first time. Early freezes and wet, cool weather around blossom time activated the disease, Michigan State University Plant Pathologist Al Jones said. (Staff photo)

Farmers To Examine Two Key Bargaining Tools Next Week

Cherry Marketing Order Amendments Considered

By late May or early June of 1977, growers will be voting on amendments to the Federal Red Tart Cherry Marketing Order, according to a Cherry Administrative Board timetable.

First on the timetable are meetings for growers and processors in the eight states covered by the order, said Del

Rasmussen, general manager of the board. Growers and processors will meet with board members and suggest amendments, Rasmussen said.

The first meeting will be held June 15 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Watervliet high school, with other meetings slated around the country through July 1.

Rasmussen said the board has heard many suggested ways to improve the marketing order. Before it drafts proposed amendments, it wants to give all growers and processors a chance to speak.

After the meetings the board will draft amendments, then return to the areas for a series of formal hearings. Then a referendum of growers and processors will be held, he added, hopefully before next harvest season.

WSAM Meeting Topic Is State Marketing Law

Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Michigan (WSAM) have called a meeting to talk about amending the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act, a controversial law that is in the process of being renewed.

Mildred Schultz, president of the Southwestern Michigan WSAM chapter, has invited marketing specialists who work with the law to a meeting June 14 at 8 p.m. at St. Joseph Catholic church, Watervliet. Anybody with an opinion about the law is invited, she said.

Present to answer questions will be Noel Stuckman, Harry Foster and Jerry Campbell, all of the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association (MACMA). Mrs. Schultz said.

Stuckman said this week that MACMA is in the "thinking stage" regarding the Act. A state senate bill that would remove the September, 1976, expiration date has passed both houses of the legislature and awaits the signature of the governor.

Stuckman said that the Act was the first of its kind in the country, an experiment.

Although the basic outline of the Act is sound, three years of experience have shown that some of the procedures are a problem, he added.

For example, under the Act binding arbitration is called for if processors and growers haven't agreed on a price by the first day of the marketing period. It's been suggested both that the date be later in the season and earlier, Stuckman said.

Processors say the date is too early; they need more time before offering a price so they can decide what size and shape the crop will be, said Stuckman. Growers say the date is too late; if arbitration is needed the time it takes means growers are picking crops without knowing what price they will be paid.

Stuckman said the Act can be changed by legislative amendment or by the Marketing and Bargaining board writing rules to "clarify" the Act. All such rule changes or clarifications have to be approved by the Attorney General, who checks to make sure that the meaning of the Act has not been changed, Stuckman explained.

Bad Year For Syrup Production

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's maple syrup production fell 30 per cent from the levels of the last two years, with only 69,000 gallons of maple syrup made this year in one of the shortest and worst syrup seasons ever.

Plus, most producers said their syrup was too dark and not sweet enough, the Michigan Crop Reporting Service said.

In general, it was a poor year for most producers, the service said.

Unseasonably warm weather in late February and early March caused the sap to start flowing about March 2, more than a week earlier than normal. But warm temperatures in late March turned off the flow around March 31, 18 days earlier than normal.

Syrup production in both 1974 and 1975 was about 88,000 gallons, with Michigan ranking fourth last year among the 30 states in syrup production. The value of Michigan syrup this year dropped to $276,000, about 26 per cent less than 1975.

Fruit Crop 'Guesstimate' Set

The first detailed estimate of how much fruit survived spring freezes will be heard June 17 at 2 p.m. at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn during the Michigan Frozen Food

Packers association's annual crop guesstimate.

Processing company fieldmen familiar with Michigan fruit crops will make the guesstimates, according to Sam Ebbert, a director of the association.

In addition, Ebbert said that fruit buyers and brokers from all over the country will be present and will be asked to comment on the sizes of the crops in their states. The meeting is open to the public.

Colonial Planting Rule:

Years, Then Move West Corn, Corn, Corn For 40

No two farm crops are more representative of the amazing historical advancements of U.S. agriculture than corn and wheat.

When the very survival of the Pilgrims was at stake, maize or corn was chief among the many plants the Indians introduced to the Colonists.

Although wheat was not native to the New Land, it became a major crop for domestic food and export by 1640.

The Pennsylvania German farmers of the area west from Philadelphia to the Susquehanna River tilled the rich land known as the Colonial Breadbasket, which fueled many of the military campaigns of the Revolution.

Corn and wheat growing largely remained a manual task for many years to come. By 1825, some 60 man-hours were needed to produce an acre of wheat, using a walking plow, bundle of brush for harrow, hand broadcast of seed, harvesting by sickle and threshing by flail.

EXPORTS ARE VARIED

When we talk about farm exports, we usually refer to the major items, such as wheat, corn or soybeans. Actually, the U.S. exports more than 500 different farm products, including ginseng (a medicinal plant) to Hong Kong, licorice extract to Denmark, beef liver and tongue to France and feather meal to Japan.

Mechanical improvements were soon to come. In just four years, 1833 to 1837, the steel plow, mechanical reaper and threshing machine made their appearance.

But still to be learned was the value of good farming practices.

Top wheat fields in New York state yielded more than 30 bushels an acre after the Revolution. But within a half century, average yields would be down to eight bushels.

One Ohio farmer commented: "Among anti-book farmers, it's corn, corn, corn for 40 years and then move West. Among the progressives, it's clover two years, potatoes, corn, wheat, clover."

The agricultural push west had begun. In 1840, Pennsylvania was still the top wheat state. Within 20 years, the wheat-growing center shifted to Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Labor requirements to produce the crops were dropping. Some 35 man-hours were still needed to produce an acre of corn. By 1920, only three man-hours were needed for an acre of wheat and six for an acre of corn.

Spurred by the Civil War and a tremendous demand for food, the commercial Corn and Wheat Belts began to take shape.

The combine made its appearance and had only a short life in Michigan before the war. Later it was transplanted to the Pacific wheat fields, powered by as many as 40 horses, and was in factory production in California by 1880.

It wasn't until the late 1930's that the self-propelled combine of today made its appearance. And it was just in time to fill the food needs of another war.

ASC Sets Allotment Deadline

Requests for 1977 wheat allotments must be filed with the Berrien Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office by July 1, office manager Milton Francis said.

Most farms with 1976 allotments will automatically receive a 1977 allotment, Francis said.

To get a new allotment, the farmer must receive more than half of his income from farming and have at least one year experience as a farmer, Francis explained.

Boston Likes Mounted Police For Crowd Control

By SHELLY COHEN
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Among the few bright spots in an often dismal, tense school year were scenes of city youngsters making their first acquaintance with a horse.

Sure, they were police horses, there to control crowds in case of trouble. But to a youngster a horse is a horse.

"The horse may be the oldest weapon in the police arsenal, but for crowd control it's still one of the most effective — so effective that, after years of decline, the Boston police mounted patrol is expanding."

After all, how many people will stop to argue with a 1,200-pound horse?

Most people are by nature afraid of the horses, so a mounted officer can break up a group more easily," said Patrolman James Levey of the mounted unit maintained by the state's Metropolitan District Commission.

"But for people who do like horses, it has a calming effect, a psychological impact," added Levey's colleague, Frank Smith.

The MDC horses augmented Boston's during the tense opening days of school last September, and both men patrolled the streets of the Charlestown section.

"The horses helped us establish a rapport with the kids," Levey said. "As soon as they figured out we're not there to run them into the ground, the whole picture changed."

Boston's police department only a year ago had dwindled to 10 horses and riders. Now the department plans to double that, said Sgt. Alfred J. McNeil, unit commander.

McNeil's command has 17 horses and 15 riders, including the first female member of the patrol, Marie Donahue.

"Chicago beat us by about six months" in appointing a woman, McNeil said. "It should never have happened. We're the oldest and we should have been first."

The MDC, whose horses normally patrol two quiet forest reservations in the suburbs, stables 14 horses, but austere state budgets have forced it to drop to seven riders.

The Boston police mounted division traces its history to 1883, when its lone horse and rider patrolled the alleys of the Back Bay section. It was the only way a patrolman could see over the high garden walls of the town houses in the area.

Now the mounted police wear the patch of the Tactical Patrol Force. They can disperse an unruly crowd in minutes or maintain an orderly line of march for a peaceful demonstration.

"How we use a horse depends a lot on the mood of the crowd," McNeil said.

Last August, the MDC horses scaled far out into the waters off South Boston's Carson Beach to head off a confrontation of angry whites and blacks — something motorcycles or cars couldn't have done.

"I think we kept all hell from breaking loose," Smith said.

And despite criticism that the police presence aggravated an already tense situation, Smith maintained: "We never used our horses offensively. It just isn't so. We were there for defensive purposes to protect everyone — all of the people, including other police."

When not on emergency duty at Boston school or at demonstrations, the Boston Police unit patrols Boston Common, the Public Garden, fashionable Newbury Street, the theater district at night and helps direct traffic near the city's busiest business districts.

The MDC officers estimated it costs about $75 to $100 a month to keep each horse, McNeil declined to estimate his unit's cost but added: "When you compare the expense and upkeep with the price of a motor vehicle and how often you have to repair it, it's not that much."

Boston police horses are stabled at what was once the elegant Brandegee Estate in the Jamaica Plain section, now leased to the city. Their quarters, nestled among acres of trees and lilac bushes, are shared with the police FBI corps training center.

Many of the MDC and Boston horses are donated by people who for one reason or another can no longer keep them and want them to get a good home.

McNeil said many of the horses they acquire were once the pets of young women now going off to college.

"They know he'll get proper

MOUNTED PATROL: While police attempt to push back a surging crowd at the height of anti-busing demonstrations in South Boston last December, mounted police begin to advance on the group in an effort to disperse them. After years of decline, the mounted patrolman, one of the department's oldest weapons in its arsenal, is experiencing a comeback after proving its effectiveness in crowd control. (AP Wirephoto) care and attention and a good home and a glamorous job," McNeil said.

The mounted units have a 30-day trial period for horses they accept. The horses must be a minimum of 15.2 hands — 60.8 inches — high, a bay or chestnut color and, for the Boston Unit, at least 7 years old. (The MDC likes its horses between 4 and 6 years old).

And both units prefer so-called cold-blooded horses with even tempers, such as Morgans or American Standardbreds or combinations of the two, rather than the high-strung thoroughbred.

But once a horse passes that initial trial period, he has job security as long as he remains sound and a guaranteed retirement home after that.

The MDC's horse Shannon at 25 is probably the veteran of both units, following the recent retirement of Section Man after 13 successful years in harness racing and 12 with the Boston Police Department.

Police horses are retired to a farm in Methuen run by the Massachusetts Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and are never ridden again.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Moves Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved higher today, buoyed by hopes for a lull in the recent sharp rise in interest rates.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks moved up more than three points. Advances outnumbered declines by a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Wall Street's hope for some relief from the recent interest rate spiral was encouraged as the market opened today. Citibank, often a trendsetter among major banks, kept its prime lending rate unchanged at 7 1/2 per cent.

The development appeared to overshadow the news as the market was closing on Thursday that the nation's basic money supply rose $1 billion in the latest reporting week.

Recent sharp increases in the money supply were held to blame in part for the rise in interest rates.

Among today's prices, Phelps Dodge added 1/2 to 47 1/2. Gould, Inc. was up 1/2 to 35, and U.S. Steel rose 3/4 to 53 1/4.

On Thursday, the Dow Jones industrial average advanced 6.30 to 861.58, its largest gain in nearly two weeks.

Gainers led losers by roughly a 2-1 margin among NYSE-listed issues.

Turnover on the Big Board totaled 16.10 million shares, compared with 14.58 million the previous session.

On the American Exchange, the market value index added 32 to 101.75.

Prosecution Rejected Deferred

A Watervliet man has rejected an opportunity to be placed on Berrien's deferred prosecution program.

On Monday a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property valued over $100 was dismissed in Berrien District court against Vance Majors, 55, of Paw Paw Lake trailer park. According to the court record, the charge was dismissed and Majors was referred to deferred prosecution.

But Majors told this newspaper yesterday that he discovered that to be placed on deferred prosecution, the person must first admit guilt. He said he is innocent of the crime.

Majors said that the prosecutor's office is now deciding whether or not to reinstate the charge, brought in connection with the theft of $1,500 worth of tools from the Whirlpool corporation's St. Joseph division.

Majors said he is on medical leave from Whirlpool.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Women Arrested In Car Incident

Benton Harbor police said three young women were arrested Thursday on charges of vandalism and assault and battery after a Benton Harbor man said he was struck with sticks and the windshield of his car was smashed.

Richard T. Peoples, 30, of 630 Green street, told police he sustained scratches and bruises in the 5 p.m. incident at the intersection of Jefferson and Summit streets. Police said he did not require medical treatment. Police said the windshield of Peoples' car was smashed, apparently with a metal trash canister. The incident reportedly stemmed from an argument.

Booked at the Berrien county jail were Deborah Rahms, 19, of 181 Apple avenue; Dianna Williams, 20, of 323 High street; and Annie Marie Bell, 23, of 232 Brunson avenue, all of Benton Harbor.

A Benton Harbor woman told city police an intruder in her home early this morning was frightened away by her screams and the barking of her dog.

Hazel Perlick, 50, of 161 Kline avenue, was unharmed in the incident, police said. She said she was awakened by a man about 1 a.m. Police said the man was stocky and wore no shirt or shoes.

The intruder entered through a rear window, police said, and left through the front door and fled on foot.

Benton township police reported finding no bomb after a threat was telephoned to the offices of Sta-Rite Industries—Skidmore Operations, 1875 Dewey avenue, Thursday about 4:15 p.m.

The caller said "there's a bomb in your building," then hung up. A receptionist who answered the call said the caller had a low, deep voice. The company manufactures pumps.

A Benton Harbor man received several apparently minor cuts Thursday when his storm door was shattered sun after he had told youngsters in his backyard to be quiet and go home, city police reported.

Lincoln Lefor, 658 East Empire avenue, sought his own treatment for cuts in the lower chest area in the 10:15 p.m. incident. Lefor was standing by the door when it was broken, apparently with a rock.

Benton township police said a plate glass window at the Country Store, 1400 Lynch avenues, Fairplain, was broken by a rock. Damage to the broken window, discovered Thursday morning, was estimated at between $150 and $200, police reported.

Five vehicles parked at Leroy's Body Shop, 130 West Britain avenue, were reported damaged and some items were believed stolen early today, Benton Harbor police said.

Patrolman Greg Platts said he found the thefts and damage when he investigated after finding a fire extinguisher near the shop.

Three of the vehicles were inside a fenced compound, and two were parked near the shop in a lot. Two of the vehicles had broken door windows, a camper was smashed and damaged when thieves apparently attempted to get a radio and one car was missing two tires with specialty rims, Platts said.

Other thefts reported to Benton Harbor police Thursday and early today were:

—A 1968 red Ford Galaxie, valued at $800, owned by Willie Kyles, 1857 Council court, Benton township, from where it was left parked in the 400 block of Pipestone street.

—Cash in the amount of $100, from the purse of Bobbie Bennett, 401 Park street, in the bedroom of her residence.

—A stereo tape player from the home of Dorothy Sanders, 704 Highland avenue.

—A television, telephone and chess set, all valued at $200, from the residence of Erma Adams, 1020 Columbus avenue.

AT IONIA

Berrien Man Dies In Prison

A Berrien Springs man who could have been eligible for parole from prison in August died Wednesday with bedsores knotted around his neck.

Prisoners died on arrival at an Ionia hospital was Dale Gerald Shelton, 22, formerly of Junes road, Berrien Springs. Shelton was ordered back to prison in April for a parole violation.

Prison authorities said both Shelton and another man were found with bedsores knotted around their necks while in their cells at the Michigan State Reformatory in Ionia. The other prisoner, Robert James, 28, was hospitalized.

Shelton was sentenced to 2 to 4 years in prison in March, 1974, by Berrien Circuit Judge Julian Hughes for larceny in a building—the theft of about $800 worth of tools from an airplane hangar in Berrien township.

A Corrections Department spokesman said Shelton was paroled in August, 1975, but was returned to prison in April for a parole violation after pleading guilty in Berrien District court to use of marijuana.

Authorities for the parole board in Lansing said Shelton was to have been considered in July for a possible parole in August.

Mr. Shelton was born May 18, 1954, in Ionia.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Shelton, Berrien Springs; eight brothers, Donald, Benton Harbor, Danny, Tam, Paul, Tim, Ted, Doug and David, all of Berrien Springs; three sisters, Miss Mary Shelton, Berrien Springs, Mrs. Denise Scott and Mrs. Sandra Brant, both of Benton Harbor; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Shelton, Berrien Center and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nitz, Sioux City, Iowa.

A funeral Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Mary's Catholic church gymnasium. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery, Niles.

A prayer service will be held at 7 p.m. this evening at Halbritter funeral home, Niles.

Memorials may be made to the Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

Lawrence Bans Coed Games

LAWRENCE — Lawrence school board last night identified sports in which boys and girls cannot compete together as required by state law.

The sports included football, basketball, boxing, wrestling, rugby, ice hockey, baseball and softball.

In other business, the board hired David Nicholas of Lawrence to clean up and smooth out land on the northeast side of the football field for use as another field for athletics. Cost will be $432 for two days of work, school officials said.

The board also hired R.T. Brundage Roofing company of Kalamazoo to repair the roof over the junior high, boiler room and storage area, at a cost of $675.

Crash Victim Dies; Cass Road Toll 8

CASSOPOLIS — Cass county recorded its eighth traffic fatality of the year yesterday when an Elkhart, Ind., woman died of injuries suffered in a May 13 accident, according to Cass sheriff's deputies.

Officers said Mrs. Davis Schrock, 48, died at Elkhart General hospital yesterday from injuries received May 13 when her car ran through a stop sign and struck a pickup truck. There were nine traffic fatalities in Cass county at the same date in 1975.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Calvin Hill street and Calvin Center road in Cass county's Calvin township, about eight miles southeast of Cassopolis.

Three other people were treated and released for injuries suffered in the accident. They were Adolph Karger, 76, Mrs. Schrock's father and a passenger in her car; John Szych, 42, route 3, Cassopolis, the driver of the pickup; and his daughter, Tonia, age 3.

Berry Prices Lower

Strawberry prices were lower at the Benton Harbor Fruit Market Thursday. Market Reporter Mike Pfeiffer noted that demand was "fair" for the Midway, Guardian, Red Chief and Maritan berries delivered.

Also yesterday the first greens of the season arrived at the market, brought by Grand Junction Grower Jim Street. Street was paid $2.50 each for 10 cantaloup crates of collard greens, Pfeiffer reported. Buyer was Bob Needham.

Strawberry prices were:

10-qt. crate — Medium to large $9 to $10, best mostly $9 to $9.50, few early sales $10.25 to $10.50, occasionally higher; small to medium and some fair appearance $8 to $8.50, mostly $8.25 to $8.50, few $8.75; small $7.50. Receipts: 8,200.

8-qt. flat — A few large $7; medium to large $6 to $6.25; small to medium $5 to $5.25. Receipts: 1,132.

Growers delivered 138 loads of produce to the market yesterday; 10 day buyers were present.

Strawberry prices were lower at the Benton Harbor Fruit Market Thursday. Market Reporter Mike Pfeiffer noted that demand was "fair" for the Midway, Guardian, Red Chief and Maritan berries delivered.

Also yesterday the first greens of the season arrived at the market, brought by Grand Junction Grower Jim Street. Street was paid $2.50 each for 10 cantaloup crates of collard greens, Pfeiffer reported. Buyer was Bob Needham.

TWO ASK HEARINGS Berrien Court Sentences 13

Two people demanded preliminary examinations and 13 were sentenced Thursday in Berrien District court. Demanding examinations were: Alexander Davis, 24, of Chicago, charged with carrying a concealed weapon — a sawed-off shotgun — July 25, 1975, in Benton Harbor. He was jailed under $10,000 bail.

D.A. Becker, 18, no address listed, charged with breaking into a house on Buyer road, Coloma township, Dec. 2. He was released on $2,500 bail.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Use of marijuana — Charles B. Richardson, 31, of Battle Creek, fine and costs of $30 or 10 days in jail; Phillip G. Zech, 27, of 205 George street, Berrien Springs, and Timothy D. Whelstone, 28, of 808 West Front street, Buchanan, $30 each.

Driving while license suspended — Howard Hubbell, 41, of Mt. Morris, three days in jail and $75 or 15 days in jail total; Ervin Baker, 37, of Detroit, three days in jail and $60; Dennis Bradford, 23, of 280 Prospect, St. Joseph, three days in jail and $155; Roman C. Rose, 30, of Detroit, three days in jail and $50.

Driving under the influence of intoxicants — Daniel E. Zielke, 34, of Napier avenue, Benton township, $153; Bobby R. Dunn, 23, of Benton Harbor, nine months in jail for second offense; William L. Bailey, 34, of 2811 South Pipestone road, rural Benton Harbor, 180 days in jail, $150 and two years probation for second offense.

Others sentenced were:

Pekolia Peals, 29, of 356 Washington, Benton Harbor, concurrent 90-day jail sentences for two counts of petty larceny occurring Oct. 4 at Ocas Drugs and Jan. 8 at Jewel Foods, both in Benton township.

Carl D. Hurd, 23, of Hagur township, $50 for disorderly person June 9 in St. Joseph.

Anthony K. Wallace, 25, of Hanna, Ind., $53 or 30 days in jail for transporting an unlicensed rifle in a car in New Buffalo June 10.

Charges of attempted larceny from an auto were dismissed against two Indiana men who were placed on the county deferred prosecution program. Fred were Robert J. Nemeth and Carl A. Higgins, both of Chesterton.

WALK-OUT BASEMENT

A 3 bedroom ranch brick home becomes practically a two story home because of the terraced backyard overlooking Hickory Creek and the basement family room opening out at ground level. The upper level family room serves as dining room too. Full floors have wood burning fireplace. There is a screened-in porch, first floor utility room, built-in appliances, 2 1/2 baths and many other features. Located in St. Joseph school system. $61,800 is the price.

BEAT THE HEAT

Which is bound to reach us before too long, in a 2 1/2 acre swimming pool, fenced in for privacy and safety, in the large backyard behind a very fine brick ranch home. Located in Lincoln Twp. and Lakeshore schools in a good residential area of Lake Shore Drive, the home has 4 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, 2 wood burning fireplaces, spacious kitchen/dining area and many other plus features. Kitchen appliances include a stove, dishwasher and disposal. The beautifully paneled basement recreation room will be enjoyed by the whole family. Priced at $48,900 and ready for immediate occupancy.

Ford, Reagan Fish In Missouri

By TERRY GANEY
Associated Press Writer
SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — President Ford and challenger Ronald Reagan, battling for every available delegate in their closely matched race for the Republican presidential nomination, today sought Missouri's remaining 19 delegates.

The 19 at-large delegates to be selected at Missouri's GOP convention Saturday afternoon are among the more than 400 uncommitted, and yet-to-be-chosen delegates to Republican national convention in Kansas City on Aug. 30.

Missouri will send a total of 39 delegates to the convention. Of the other 39 chosen at congressional district conventions in May, 15 support Ford, 12 are for the former California governor and three are uncommitted.

"It appears to be very close," state GOP Committee Chairman Lowell McCuskey said when asked to forecast the way in which the 19 votes will be split.

Gov. Christopher S. Bond, a Ford supporter, would not make a prediction.

Meanwhile, Jimmy Carter, holding a commanding lead in the Democratic delegate race, relaxed at home today. The former Georgia governor had 1,212 publicly committed delegates as of Thursday. The AP survey showed. The Democratic National Committee's scorecard showed him with 1,514 delegates, nine more than needed for the nomination.

The two GOP contenders scheduled receptions tonight at neighboring motels in this southwestern Missouri city. Although they will be crossing paths several times after their arrivals in late afternoon, Bond said the chances are "absolutely zero" that they would meet.

Ford's scheduled stay was limited to about four hours, while Reagan planned to address the 1,439-member state convention Saturday morning.

Bond said the state's other top Republican elected officials, Atty. Gen. John Danforth and Lt. Gov. William Phelps, have been calling state convention delegates in an effort to get them to support Ford.

John Powell, Reagan's Missouri campaign coordinator, charged Thursday that Ford supporters were trying to "steal national delegates" through a credentials challenge of 395 state convention delegates, most of whom are Reagan supporters.

KNOCKED-OUT SYRIAN T-62 ON ROAD TO BEIRUT

LEBANESE TRUCE BROKEN

By ALEX EFTY
Associated Press Writer
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Heavy fighting shattered the latest cease-fire in Lebanon during the night, radio broadcasts from the Lebanese capital reported.

"The clashes that raged all night wiped out hopes of a settlement," said Beirut Radio, which is controlled by the leftist Lebanese Moslems and their Palestinian allies.

It reported hundreds of new wounded in hospital in the Moslem sector of Beirut.

The Christian Amchit radio reported "fierce clashes" during the night around Beirut's international airport and the port city of Sidon, 25 miles south of the capital.

The broadcast said the Syrians were once more fighting their way into Sidon and were advancing slowly toward the center of the city.

The Christian radio said Syrian troops were also fighting in Tripoli, in northern Lebanon, and at Raqlusa.

The Christian broadcast blamed the fighting at the Beirut airport on Yasser Arafat's Al Fatah Palestinians and the Lebanese leftists. It claimed they opened fire on Palestinians of the Syrian-controlled Saifu guerrillas and Syrians in the airport area "in an attempt to dislodge them."

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The city of Escanaba would be free to lease a building at the Upper Peninsula State Fairgrounds for an ice skating rink under legislation on its way to Gov. William Milliken.

'Blues' Chief's Pay Up

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield has given its president additional duties and a $13,000 pay hike, despite protests from some of its board members.

The increase brought John C. McCabe's salary to $85,000, including a $10,000-a-year supplement to his retirement plan. He was awarded a $17,020 boost in 1975.

The actions came at a Wednesday meeting at which board chairman Bennett J. McCarthy, 61, announced his retirement effective Sept. 1. McCabe will serve thereafter as the Blues' chief executive and administrative officer.

The Blues will return to their old practice of selecting a chairman from the members of the volunteer board of directors.

Seven of the 29 Blues' board members voted against the salary increase for McCabe, with Robert Brenner, regional director for the Allied Industrial Workers of America, among the most critical.

"I thought it was excessive," he said.

Asst. State Insurance Commissioner Kenneth Tannenbaum also was critical of the pay hike.

Bail Bill's Fate Up To Senate

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment that would deny bail to certain ex-convicts has gone to an uncertain future in the Senate after approval in the House.

The Senate, meanwhile, approved and sent to the House a bill authorizing the state to lease private farm land for hunting. The bill, passed 33-0 on Thursday, would levy a dollar planting license fee to establish a fund to lease farmland in southern Lower Michigan.

The no-bail bill, approved 88-17, will go to the Senate Judiciary Committee for hearings, where it is expected to get a stormy reception. Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, committee chairman, said he opposes the measure.

Sponsored by Rep. Paul Rosenbaum, D-Battle Creek, the bill has been fought bitterly by critics who claim it violates the constitution, will overcrowd jails and undermines the presumption of innocence.

The proposal needed 74 votes to pass the House and got there with ease. It will need 28 to clear the 38-member Senate. If it wins final approval, it would go on the November ballot.

The bill is also opposed by the State Bar of Michigan, which argues it will take away a judge's discretion over who should get bail. The constitution now prohibits bail only for those charged with murder or treason.

The bill would deny bail to:

- Persons charged with a felony punishable by a maximum of five years to life in prison who have been convicted of three or more felonies in the last 18 years.
- Persons indicted, or arraigned on charges of first-degree murder, treason, criminal sexual conduct, armed robbery or kidnapping with intent to extort, unless the court decides the person is not dangerous to society.

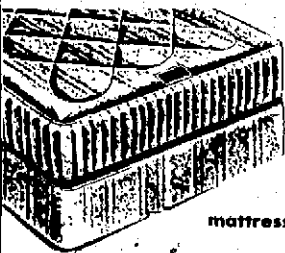

- Persons who while out on bail from a felony charge or on parole from a felony conviction are indicted or arraigned on a felony charge.
- Persons who are appealing convictions for any of the above charges.

The bill would require that if a person is denied bail, the court would hasten his trial. If a delay is granted for the trial, the court could then grant bail.
